WASHINGTON

TONY TAVARES

President / CEO

Tavares, 56, was appointed President of the Montreal Expos by Major League Baseball on February 12, 2002. Currently the Nationals' President and CEO, Tavares has spearheaded the historic relocation to Washington, D.C. While the franchise relocation incorporated a dramatic shift in markets, it has also included a change in name, status and work force reflective of the Nationals' new home, Washington D.C.

The transfer was a success on every level, as the Nationals out produced many projections both on the field, at the turnstiles and in the front office. In its first Major League season since 1971, Washington held at least a share of first place in the ultra-competitive NL East for more than two months en route to an 81-81 finish. Washington's newest summer crush had made a splash on the field by winning 14 more games than the season prior. Meanwhile, despite a late start to the most unique of off-seasons, the Nationals ranked 11th in MLB attendance by hosting over 2.7 million fans, an average of 32,404 per opening. Both figures represented new franchise records.

On November 2, 2004, Tavares tabbed Jim Bowden to be the first General Manager in the history of the Washington Nationals. Together, they hired strategically and implemented policy that allowed the franchise to regain the solid footing that was missing during the clubs final decade in Canada.

On November 22, 2004, Tavares shared center stage with various D.C. dignitaries, including Washington, D.C. Mayor Anthony A. Williams, while announcing that the new Washington Major League Baseball franchise would be named the Washington Nationals. As part of the ceremony, Tavares noted that the Nationals' color scheme of red, white and blue would "not only represent our new home, but symbolize the joining together of Washington's baseball past and its future."

Yet, that thrilling afternoon was just the beginning. Tavares' task was to plant the Nationals flag in the nation's capitol. To do this, he hired an almost entirely new local work force that was almost universally new to the baseball industry.

The job at hand was to introduce the Nationals to the masses and rekindle the passion for Major League Baseball to various communities that have not had a team to call their own for 33 summers. Easier said than done.

One year later, however, mission accomplished.

Beyond the win total, and in just six months, the Nationals won the hearts of the Washington faithful and reestablished ties with an adoring fan base that will serve this franchise and region for decades to come.

To that end, Tavares addressed a series of issues, including but not limited to, hiring a new general manager, closing down the club's Montreal operations, designing the Nationals logo/uniforms, choosing a ticketing company, devising ticket maps and prices, getting RFK Stadium ready for baseball, picking a stadium food-service vendor and negotiating radio broadcast rights. Many of these issues are on-going.

Four seasons after inheriting a struggling Expos franchise, the club has thrice contended for the National League Wild Card and suffered just one losing season. In 2003 and 2004, the Expos recorded consecutive winning campaigns for the first time since '92-94. The 2002 and '03 seasons also resulted in a 20-plus percent increase in attendance compared to the season prior.

Upon arrival in Montreal, Tavares inherited the unique plight of the Expos, a Major League Baseball-owned franchise at risk of being either relocated or contracted. Despite the numerous potential pitfalls, Tavares' role was to run the Montreal franchise as he would any other: Provide a quality, competitive, fan-friendly product on the field while adhering to a budget.

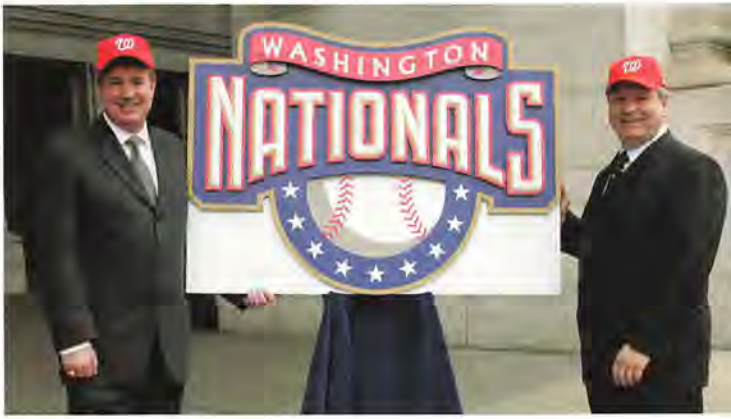
This is exactly what Tavares accomplished during his three years in Montreal. Despite being affixed to a trio of limited budgets, Tavares and General Manager Omar Minaya joined creative forces to acquire, among others, Bartolo Colon, Cliff Floyd and Livan Hernandez. The 2004 season was as tough as any experienced in recent memory, as the apprehension tied to the potential relocation of the Montreal franchise finally became reality. Thus, after years of admirable resolve and fight, the Expos' performance on the field finally began to reflect the various stresses they were put under. Then on September 29, MLB Commissioner Bud Selig announced the Montreal Expos would relocate to Washington, D.C. for the 2005 season.

In 2003, Tavares' input coupled with the club's strong play helped the Expos eclipse the one-million mark in attendance for the first time since 1997. An impressive feat considering Tavares and the Expos had to navigate the club's historic, yet politically sticky, split schedule, which featured 22 games played in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Never before had a major sports franchise played a significant portion of its schedule outside of the United States or Canada. However, the Puerto Rico trial proved fruitful, as the Expos went 13-9 (.591) on the island while playing in front of raucous crowds, including four sellouts. The Expos averaged 14,222 at Hiram Bithorn Stadium (79% capacity) for the 22 Puerto Rico openings.



Tavares previously served as President of the Anaheim Angels for six years, a position he assumed on May 15, 1996. He was appointed the first-ever President of Anaheim Sports, Inc. (ASI) on March 1, 1993 and was responsible for the overall team operation of the Angels and the NHL's Mighty Ducks of Anaheim.

During his tenure in Anaheim, Tavares spear headed the transformation of Anaheim Stadium from a dank multi-purpose facility to a beautiful ballpark reflective of its Southern California/Orange County surroundings. Tavares' knowledge of the game—both on and off the field—has rendered appointments on numerous Major League Baseball committees, including the American League Board of Directors, MLB Enterprise Board of Directors and MLB Realignment Committee.

Tavares joined Anaheim Sports, Inc., after serving as a consultant with The Walt Disney Company, helping plan the organization's entry into professional hockey. Before that, he spent 11 years with Spectacor Management Group, a major facilities management company, rising to the position of president and chief executive officer. There, Tavares held several senior management positions, directing the activities of the Centrum in Worcester, Mass., the Providence (RI) Civic Center, New Haven (CT) Veterans Memorial Coliseum and the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Uniondale, NY.

Born in Fall River, MA, on October 17, 1949, Tavares grew up in Bristol, RI, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting from Roger Williams College, where he would receive an honorary doctorate degree in 1998. Tony and his wife Elizabeth have three grown children: daughters Sheila and Kristen, and son Mark. They are also proud grandparents of their lone grandchild, Jack Meckel. The couple resides in Reno, NV. When in Washington, he is a resident of Georgetown.

KEVIN UHLICH

Executive Vice President

Uhlich, 48, first joined the Nationals as a high-level consultant before being promoted to Executive Vice President in November of 2004. Uhlich was tapped for the position by Nationals President and CEO Tony Tavares, with whom he worked closely with for nearly a decade in Anaheim.

While Uhlich begins his 30th season in baseball, his 29th was perhaps his most challenging, as he worked hand-in-hand with Tavares in overseeing every facet of the Nationals' operation, from sales, to broadcasting, to budgets. Despite numerous potential impediments, the 2005 Nationals were a success story. Uhlich delivered on Tony Tavares' vision of installing a front office reflective Washington, DC itself. Despite an overall lack of baseball experience, it worked, as Washington went 81-81, finished 11th in baseball in attendance, and perhaps most importantly, laid a locally-based foundation that will benefit baseball in the nation's capitol for decades to come.

Uhlich's first 28 seasons in baseball came with the Anaheim/California Angels. In 2002, his first season as Sr. Vice-President, Business Operations, Anaheim won its first World Championship by defeating San Francisco in seven games.

Uhlich had previously served the club as Vice-President, Sales, Marketing and Operations. It was Uhlich who implemented the Angels' change in uniforms and color scheme to predominately red. The reason for the change was twofold: bring focus upon a bright future for the franchise while paying homage to its storied past, specifically the legacy of former owner Gene Autry, whose favorite color was red.

A native of Anaheim, Uhlich's responsibilities encompassed all facets of the club's business operation, including, but not limited to, booking stadium events at then-Edison International Field and Tempe Diablo Stadium, the Angels' spring training home just outside Phoenix. He also worked hand in hand with Angels General Manager Bill Stoneman.

As Director of Stadium Operations, a position he assumed on October 1, 1996, Uhlich spearheaded the renovation process of Anaheim Stadium from multi-purpose stadium to beautiful ballpark. The ambitious project took less than two years (October of 1996-April of 1998), yet rendered spectacular results that were admired throughout the baseball community. To this end, Uhlich served as lead liaison between Anaheim Sports, Inc. and all contractors during the renovations, all the while overseeing day-to-day project operations. His insight was deemed crucial to the development, completions and ultimate success of the ballpark.

Uhlich was appointed Angels Assistant Director of Stadium Operations in 1981 and later was promoted to Director of Operations in 1985. Upon being named Vice President of Stadium Operations in 1991, Uhlich handled all matters between the Angels, the City of Anaheim and third-party operations.

Uhlich began his career in baseball in 1976 as an Angels batboy. He was later promoted to assistant clubhouse attendant in 1978. When not in Washington, he and wife, Juanita, reside in Foothill Ranch, CA with their twin boys Chase and Cody, and daughter Katie.

JIM BOWDEN

Vice President / General Manager

Jim Bowden was appointed Vice President and General Manager of the Washington Nationals on November 2, 2004. After an off-season of wheeling and dealing, the result was a 2005 campaign that saw Washington's newest summer showcase hold at least a share of first place in the National League East—which just so happened to be baseball's toughest division—for 63 days. The club ultimately won 81 games (14 more than the previous year) and remained in the NL Wild Card chase until the season's final week.

Bowden (pronounced "BOE-den") made history on October 16, 1992, when, at age 31, he became the youngest General Manager of a Major League Baseball Franchise. Three years later, he became the youngest GM in baseball history to lead his Club, the Cincinnati Reds, to the League Championship Series. Bowden continued to serve as General Manager of the Reds through July 28, 2003. At the time, Bowden's 10.5 consecutive seasons as Reds' GM rendered him the second-longest serving GM in baseball to be with the same club, behind only John Schuerholz of the Atlanta Braves.

Following the 1999 season, during which the Reds won more games (96) in a single season since 1976, Bowden was named "Executive of the Year" by Baseball America, as well as the Boston chapter of the BBWAA, Mike Mittleman of Stats, Inc., and the Touchdown Club of Columbus.

Additionally, Bowden was named the National League's "Executive of the Year" by national baseball writer Jon Heyman of Newsday.

Prior to joining the Nationals, Bowden worked as a baseball analyst, guest host and contributor for the morning television program, Cold Pizza, which airs on ESPN 2. He also did some work as a baseball analyst for ESPNews, Baseball Tonight and SportsCenter.

In 1984, Bowden began his baseball career with the Pittsburgh Pirates prior to moving on to the New York Yankees for one season (1989) as Assistant to the Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations. In December 1989, Bowden joined the Reds as an assistant in Player Development and Scouting. Subsequently, he was promoted to Director of Player Development before being named General Manager of the Reds in the fall of 1992. After being named General Manager, Bowden also temporarily assumed the duties of Team President and CEO during Managing Partner Marge Schott's absence from the club.

A native of Weston, Massachusetts, and Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Bowden was born on May 18, 1961. A 1979 graduate of Weston High School, Bowden received a bachelor's degree in business administration/communications from Rollins College in Florida in 1983. Ten years later, Bowden received Rollins' Young Alumnus Special Achievement Award, and, in 1999, he was inducted into the Rollins College Sports Hall of Fame. In addition, Bowden was the 17th recipient of the School's Athletic Achievement Award.

Engaged to actress Joy Browning, Bowden has five sons: J.B., March 10, 1987; Tyler, July 7, 1991; Chad, February 17, 1994; and, identical twins Trey and Chase, October 20, 1998.

TONY SIEGLE

Assistant General Manager

Tony Siegle was appointed Assistant General Manager of the Montreal Expos on February 16, 2002. Now in his fourth decade in baseball, Siegle is widely viewed as a specialist in rules interpretation, contract negotiations and big league administration. Including Jim Bowden and Frank Robinson, Siegle has worked closely with/for 23 general managers and 22 managers, numbers believed to be unrivaled in baseball annals.

In 2005, thanks to well over 1,400 games lost to injury, Siegle was again a busy man, as the Nationals employed a franchise-record 54 players, including 25 pitchers. All of this on top of navigating the unique-to-Washington nuances that came with the Nationals transformation from their days as the Expos.

As always, Siegle was omnipresent with the Nationals on the road in 2005. Going back to 2002, he represented the Nationals/Expos on over 90 percent of all roadtrips, including all six of the clubs treks to Puerto Rico in 2003 and 04. In 2002, Siegle employed all of his many talents while jumping into the Expos unique fray. In all, the 02 club signed 14 free agents (many within two weeks of Spring Training) and made eight big league trades involving 34 players.

Before joining the Expos in February of 2002, Siegle served as a Special Assistant to the General Manager with the San Francisco Giants after spending the previous seasons as consultants with the Phillies and Giants organizations.

After beginning in baseball in 1965 in general operations with the Astros and stadium operations with the Phillies, he moved to the baseball side when he joined the Brewers in 1970 and worked in the minor-league and scouting departments, heading the farm system from 1975-79. He rejoined the Astros as Assistant General Manager from 1979-82, returned to the Phillies in 1982 as Executive Assistant in Baseball Operations and was promoted to Vice-President a year later. He spent the majority of the 1989 season as Padres Vice-President of Player Personnel. He later joined the California Angels as a special assignment scout, the Giants as Farm Director and Vice-President, Baseball Administration in 1990, and the Rockies after the 1994 season as Director of Baseball Administration.

A former officer in the U.S. Navy, Tony resides in Denver with his wife, Cynthia. The couple has four children (Andrew, Amy Beth, Zachary and Gregory) and five grandchildren (Zachary, Tim, Samantha, Abigail and Ted).

BOB BOONE

Assistant General Manager/Director of Player Personnel

Bob Boone was appointed by Jim Bowden on December 11, 2004 as Special Assistant to the General Manager. He shifted into his current role as Assistant General Manager/Director of Player Personnel at the completion of the 2005 season.

In Boone's first season with the Nationals, he worked closely with Bowden and was involved in every aspect of the Nationals' baseball operation. He played an extremely vital role in the all big league evaluations, both internal and external, and helped "recruit" a new wave of player-development talent to join the Nationals' coaching ranks. Among those to join the Nationals after listening to Boone's pitch: Mitchell Page (current Nationals hitting coach) and Double-A manager John Stearns.

Boone also spent considerable time and energy scouting amateur talent, specifically in preparation for the 2005 First-Year Player Draft, which netted University of Virginia 3B Ryan Zimmerman.

Boone joined Washington after spending the 2004 campaign with Philadelphia as a Special Assignment Scout, a position he accepted on December 3, 2003 after a 22-year hiatus from the Phillies organization.

One of the premiere catchers of his generation, Bob was named to four All-Star teams (1976, 78-79, 83) and won seven Rawlings Gold Gloves (1978-79, 82, 86-89), including two at ages 40 and 41, during his 19-year career. Only Ivan Rodriguez (11) and Johnny Bench (10) have won more Gold Gloves for catching.

Selected by the Phillies in the sixth round of the 1969 draft as a third baseman out of Stanford University—where he graduated with a degree in psychology—Boone spent the first ten years of his major league career with Philadelphia (1972-81), which won four division titles and one World Series Championship in 1980.

Following his tenure with the Phillies, Boone played for Anaheim (1982-88) and Kansas City (1989-90). Upon retirement, Boone held the major league records for games caught in a career (2225), a record which was later broken by Carlton Fisk, and most seasons catching at least 100 games (15).

In October of 1994, Boone was named manager of the Kansas City Royals, a position he held until July of 1997. Following tenure with Kansas City, Boone joined Cincinnati as a special assistant under (then) GM Jim Bowden before being named manager of the Reds in November of 2000. He held that position until July of 2003.

Bob was born on November 19, 1947 in San Diego, CA and resides in Villa Park, CA with his wife, Sue. Two of their sons played major league baseball and achieved All-Star status: Bret (three-time All-Star, retired) and Aaron (2003 NL All-Star, currently with Cleveland). His father, the late Ray Boone, was an All-Star infielder during his 13-year career in the big leagues (1948-60). Bob's brother, Rodney, played in the Kansas City and Houston farm systems from 1972-75. The Boones are one of only three 3-generation baseball families, along with the Bells (Gus, Buddy and David) and the Hairstons (Sam, Jerry Sr. and Jerry Jr.).

BARRY LARKIN

Special Assistant to the General Manager

Larkin was named Nationals Special Assistant to the General Manager on February 13, 2005, thus ending a legendary 19-year playing career spent with one team, his hometown Cincinnati Reds. He accepted a front-office position under Jim Bowden to gain a broad-working knowledge of every facet of Washington's baseball operation, including but not limited to player development and scouting (pro and amateur).

Mission accomplished, as Larkin did just that and more in first season with Washington. Among the 2005 season highlights, on-field tutorials with various Nationals infielders/hitters and participation in consensus built prior to drafting of 3B Ryan Zimmerman with fourth overall selection in First-Year Player Draft. Larkin also helped the Nationals evaluate their own, both in the big leagues and in the minors.

At the time of his appointment/retirement, Larkin's tenure with the Reds was baseball's longest streak among active players having played with just one club.

Born in Cincinnati and a 1982 graduate of Moeller High School, Larkin hit .295 (2340-for-7937) with 441 doubles, 76 triples, 198 home runs, 960 RBI and 379 stolen bases in 2,180 games spanning 19 seasons with Cincinnati. Larkin's 19-year tenure with the Reds matched Pete Rose and Dave Concepcion as the longest in the annals of baseball's oldest franchise.

A 12-time National League All-Star, Larkin served as Reds' captain from 1997-2004. He was named MVP of the Reds on four occasions, including 1990, when Cincinnati won the National League West wire-to-wire en route to a World Series sweep of the heavily-favored Oakland Athletics. Larkin batted .300 during the Reds' 1990 post-season run, including .353 in the Fall Classic. However, Larkin's extended offensive excellence is best represented by his nine Louisville Silver Slugger Awards.

In 1995, Larkin was named National League Most Valuable Player, becoming the Reds' first MVP since George Foster won the same award in 1977. He garnered the citation by hitting .319 with 29 doubles, 15 home runs, 66 RBI and 51 stolen bases while leading the Reds to a National League Central Division title.

Larkin followed up his '95 MVP season with an even better effort the following year. In 1996, Larkin hit 33 home runs and swiped 36 bases to become the first shortstop in major league history—and only the second non-outfielder—to post 30-or-more home runs and 30-or-more stolen bases in the same season.

Larkin left the Reds ranked among the franchise's top five in numerous categories, including games (third), hits (second), total bases (third with 3,527), doubles (second), runs (second with 1,329), extra-base hits (third with 715).

In the field, Larkin's rare combination of arm strength and range resulted in three Rawlings Gold Gloves (1994-96) and the admiration of a generation of shortstops.

Off the field, Larkin's 19-year tenure was filled with tireless efforts in the Cincinnati community. In 1993 Larkin received the Reds' Roberto Clemente Award for performances both on and off the field. He was also twice a finalist for Major League Baseball's Branch Rickey Award. For years, Barry hosted underprivileged children at Reds games as part of his "Barry's Bunch" program. Barry also founded Caring Team of Athletes, Inc., a national organization of professional athletes that raises money for various children's charities.

JOSE RIJO

Special Assistant to the General Manager

Jose Rijo was appointed by Jim Bowden as Special Assistant to the General Manager on January 5, 2005. Rijo, 40, will aid in Washington's Latin American operations, specifically scouting and player development. He will also serve as a special on-field instructor during Spring Training and complete various on-field projects deemed necessary by Bowden's player development department.

Joins the Nationals after beginning his post-playing career as a scout/instructor with Cincinnati. He was hired by Bowden in 2003 to scout his native Dominican Republic and administrate the Reds' Dominican Academy in San Cristobal.

During his playing days, Rijo went 116-91 with a 3.24 ERA in 14 major league seasons with New York-AL (1984), Oakland (1985-87) and Cincinnati (1988-2002).

Rijo made his big league debut with the Yankees in 1984 as a hard-throwing phenom. He was just 19 and the youngest player in baseball. Two eye-catching trades later—deals that included Rickey Henderson and Dave Parker, among others—Rijo landed in Cincinnati, where he would win 97 games and help the Reds claim, in 1990, their first World Championship since 1976.

A 1994 National League All-Star, Rijo went 3-0 with a 2.28 ERA in four post-season starts for the 1990 World Champion Cincinnati Reds. In the World Series, Rijo went 2-0 with a 0.59 (1 ER/15.1 IP) in two starts and was named Most Valuable Player as Cincinnati stunned the baseball world by sweeping the heavily favored Athletics in four games.

In four seasons from 1990-93, Rijo won 58 games for the Reds and twice finished among the top five in National League Cy Young voting (4th in 1991, 5th in 1993). He won a career-high 15 games in both 1991 and 1992. Thanks to a 15-6 record in 1991, Rijo led the National League in winning percentage. Two years later, in 1993, he paced the NL in strikeouts (227) and finished 2nd in the league's ERA (2.48) chase.

Rijo's playing career appeared to be over in 1995 at the age of 30 due to chronic elbow problems. However, thanks to six elbow surgeries, including three "Tommy John" procedures, and an unheard of amount of perseverance, Rijo returned to the mound six year later in 2001. He pitched two more seasons for Cincinnati before retiring at the completion of the 2002 campaign.

Was elected into the Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame during on June 11, 2005 along with former teammate CF Eric Davis.

Rijo is single and resides in San Cristobal, DR.

DANA BROWN

Director, Scouting

Brown, 39, was promoted to Expos Director of Scouting on March 7, 2002 after working with the Pittsburgh organization for eight years as area scouting supervisor and East Coast scouting coordinator. Under Brown's watch, the franchise has tabbed Chad Cordero (2003, 20th overall out of Cal-State Fullerton) and Ryan Zimmerman (2005, 4th overall out of the University of Virginia) with first-round selections the last three seasons. Both players paid nearly instant dividends for the franchise, as each made big league debuts less than three months after ending their college careers. The 2005 Nationals were the only club in MLB with a pair of first-round selections from the 2003-05 First-Year Player Drafts on their season-ending roster. Also, in four drafts Brown and his staff have placed eight players on the club's 40-man roster, of which, four already have major league experience. 11 of Brown's draftees have been invited to Nationals big league Spring Training camp.

Along with Zimmerman, the 2005 First-Year Player Draft also rendered Washington another talented local product, University of Maryland outfielder Justin Maxwell. Brown's first draft in Montreal netted top prospect, righthander Clint Everts. He is also credited with signing top-hitting prospect first-baseman Larry Broadway.

A graduate of Seton Hall University, Brown played with Pirate teammates Craig Biggio, Mo Vaughn and John Valentin in 1987 prior to being drafted by Philadelphia in 1989 as an outfielder. He played three pro seasons in the Phillies' chain before enjoying a two-year stint as a minor-league coach. Brown began his scouting career in 1994. Dana and wife, Casandra Waters, have 2 children—Dana Jr. and Autumn—and live in Franklin Park, NJ.

During his tenure in the scouting department, the franchise has drafted left-handed closer Bill Bray and third baseman Ryan Zimmerman in the first round of the First-Year Player Draft.

2005 IN WASHINGTON

2005 SEASON: Piloted Nationals during MLB's return to nation's capital after 33 summers without baseball...the Nationals finished 5th in the NL East, 9.0 games behind ATL, and 8.0 games behind HOU in the NL Wild Card...Washington led the competitive NL East as late as July 20 and remained in the Wild Card chase until mid-September...in all, Washington was in sole possession of first place in the NL East, or tied for the top spot, 63 days...Washington's 81-win campaign resulted in 14 more victories than the season prior...led club to magical first half...the Nationals peaked at 19 games above .500 on July 3 and July 5...however, Washington went just 30-49 (.398) in its final 79 games starting July 6...due to a string of injuries, the '05 Nationals employed the services of a MLB-leading 55 players, trumping the former club mark, 49, set by the 2000 Expos...25 pitchers toed the rubber for the Nationals in 2005...Washington went 40-41 on the road, including wins in 17 of its final 27 road contests dating to July 31...from May 30-June 12, the Nationals completed their longest homestand of the season with an astounding 12-1 record...Washington's 12-1 homestand was matched by PHI, who capped an identical 12-1 'stand of their own during the same 2-week period...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the 12 wins recorded by Washington and PHI matched the most wins by any club on a single homestand the last 35 years..during the record-setting 'stand, the Nationals matched a franchise record with a 10-game winning streak, June 2-12...the 10-game run matched the longest winning streak in MLB in '05 (NYY also posted a 10-game winning streak)...Washington went 12-6 in interleague play, and the 12 interleague wins paced the NL...was ejected from 3 games: April 30 vs. NYM (arguing that game should be halted by rain, Hallion), May 17 vs. MIL (arguing balls and strikes, Hirschbeck) and Sept. 13 at NYM (arguing balls and strikes, Nelson).

TENURE IN MONTREAL

2004 SEASON: In 14th season as big league manager, guided the Expos to a 67-95 (.414) record in 3rd season with the club...Expos were again burdened with a split schedule that featured only 59 true "home" games at Olympic Stadium...played 21 games in Puerto Rico, going 7-14...also battled slew of injuries to key personnel, including every starting pitcher minus Livan Hernandez...after winning 83 games in both 2002 and 2003, 67-win campaign was Montreal's first losing season since 2001...the Expos were absent from the post-season hunt for the first time since 2001, due largely to 5-19 mark in April...pocketed 900th career managerial victory with 6-3 win on August 25 vs. LA...became the 58th manager to reach 900 wins...at the time of Frank's 900th, active managers on the 900-win list included STL's Tony LaRussa, ATL's Bobby Cox, NYY's Joe Torre, NYM's Art Howe, CHI's Dusty Baker and FLA's Jack McKeon...joins Fred Clarke, Cap Anson, Joe Cronin, Lou Boudreau, Frankie Frisch, Hughie Jennings, Red Schoendienst and Frank Chance as Hall-of-Famers who also won at least 900 games as a manager...was ejected from just one game: June 16 vs. MIN...was thrown out by first-base umpire Mike Fichter for arguing Luis Rivas game-winning home run to left field, which replays later showed was actually a foul ball...on July 13 at Minute Maid Park in Houston, was honored during All-Star Game festivities as one of 14 living members of the 500-home run club.

2003 SEASON: Guided the Expos to a 2nd 83-79 mark (.512) in his 2nd season while navigating the club's historic split-home schedule which featured 59 games in Montreal and 22 in San Juan, PR...the winning season—the club's 14th in 35 NL campaigns—was Frank's 6th in 13 years as a big league manager...with identical 83-79 marks the last 2 years, Montreal recorded consecutive winning campaigns for the first time since a 3-year stretch, 1992-94...despite a rash of injuries (10 different players spent 721 games on the Disabled List), the Expos fell below .500 just once all season (at 72-73 with a 4-3 loss vs. CHI on September 9 in San Juan)...a 4-game home sweep of the Phillies, August 25-28, pulled the Expos into a tie for the NL Wild Card...was ejected from 2 games in 2003...(May 9 vs. LAD and May 16 at COL (both for arguing balls and strikes)...on September 26, the Reds unveiled a bronze statue likeness of Frank Robinson outside Great American Ball Park on the Crosley Terrace...the statue, sculpted by local artist Thomas Tsuchiya, was the 3rd in a series of 4 that augment the Reds new home...all 4 immortals—Ted Kluszewski, Joe Nuxhall and Ernie Lombardi being the other 3—are from the club's Crosley Field era...after the season, Robinson managed the 2003 USA Baseball Olympic Qualifying Team, which attempted to secure a berth in the 2004 Athens Olympic Games...however, Robinson's USA club was stunned by Mexico in the quarterfinals, thus clearing the way for Canada to clinch a spot.

2002 SEASON: Robinson was officially appointed Expos' field manager only 5 days before the opening of Spring Training...became the franchise's 11th manager...did a commendable job in putting together a coaching staff and bringing confidence and pride to a team threatened by contraction since November...led the Expos to a 2nd-place finish in the NL East with an 83-79 record—Montreal's best season since 1996—and 15 wins better than the previous year...finished 3rd in the BBWAA's NL Manager of the Year voting (behind Tony La Russa and Bobby Cox)...was the recipient of Baseball America's inaugural Lifetime Achievement Award, in recognition of his career as a player, manager and executive...the award was presented to him during the Baseball Meetings in December in Nashville...reached the 700-win plateau as a manager on May 12 at Olympic Stadium with a 4-2 victory vs. SFG...was invited by Bob Brenly to serve as a coach at the 2002 All-Star Game July 9 at MIL's Miller Park...as a player, participated in 12 All-Star games and was MVP of the '71 Classic as a member of the Orioles.

COACHING CAREER

Won 7 games, but struggled through inconsistent, injury-plagued season...did not pitch after September 1 at ATL due to shoulder discomfort...had successful September 28 surgery performed by Dr. Timothy Kremchek (posterior capsule release)...entered '05 rated as high as the Nationals' No. 2 starter, but began season on 15-Day DL with right groin pull, suffered March 27 at NYM (Port St. Lucie)...missed the season's first 32 games...battled various injuries, including the aformentioned groin injury, dizziness/dehydration (July 18 vs. COL) and discomfort in right pitching shoulder... again complained of right-shoulder discomfort before being removed from the rotation by Frank Robinson...entered '05 with one career win in the month of August, but won first 2 August assignments: August 3 vs. LAD and August 13 at COL...only 3 of 39 career wins have come in month of August...with 6.0 shut-out innings, earned 2nd career win at Coors Field in Nationals' 8-0 victory, August 13...in the same game in Denver, 3 relievers then combined on 3.0 scoreless innings of 4-hit relief, as the Nationals' posted MLB's first 13-hit shutout since ATL blanked PIT, 2-0, on July 18, 1993 at Fulton County Stadium...Washington went just 7-12 in Armas Jr.'s 19 starts...9 of Tony's 19 assignments rendered one-run contests...threw 17.7 pitches per inning, which is still at least 1.0 pitch per inning higher than pre shoulder injury totals from 1999-2003...tallied 100 or more pitches 9 times, including 5 consecutive starts from May 27-June 18...tossed season-high 116 pitches on June 1 at ATL...tale of 2 Tonys: ERA on the road (6.84) was more than twice as high as ERA at RFK Stadium (3.25)...5 of 7 wins came within the cavernous confines of RFK Stadium (5-1, 3.25 ERA in 10 starts)...all 7 wins came outside of NL East...7 wins came against 7 different clubs...continued evolution into fly-ball pitcher...posted more fly-ball outs (140) than ground-ball outs (119)...among Washington pitchers making at least 15 starts, received team-high 4.44 runs per game of offensive support (runs only count if still in the game)...Livan Hernandez ranked 2nd with 4.24...is 10-1 in last 20 "true" home starts...a true home start is a start at either RFK Stadium or Olympic Stadium in Montreal, and excluded "home" starts at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in Puerto Rico...opposing batters hit .321 (25-for-78) in the first inning, .242 thereafter (75-for-310)...pitched better on 4 days' rest (3-3, 4.00 in 8 starts) than when extra rest (4-4, 5.75 in 11 starts)...opponents hit .254 with 5 home runs when the count reached 2 strikes.

Game-By-Game Highlights: After 5-start rehab stint, made 2005 big league debut on May 10 at ARI...pitched well, retiring 15 of 16 batters at one juncture, but took the loss after allowing Troy Glaus' 3-run homer with 2 outs in the 6th inning (was staked to a 2-0 lead after 5 innings)...in all, allowed 3 runs on 3 hits in 5.2 innings...walked 3, struck out 2 in 3-2 setback at B.O.B...earned first win of '05, and first W since July 23, 2004 vs. FLA, with 7.0 strong innings, May 16 vs. MIL...was touched for just 2 runs on 5 hits...walked 2, fanned 3...in extreme heat and humidity, spun 5.0 scoreless innings to earn win and cap 12-1 homestand, June 12 vs. SEA (W3-2)...win on July 2 at CHI was first on the road since April 10, 2003, also at Wrigley Field...pitched just 2.0 innings, allowing one run, due to dizziness and dehydration in shortest start of the season, July 18 vs. COL...did not get a decision...worked 7.0 innings of one-hit, 2-run ball to pocket the win in a 4-2 victory on July 23 vs. HOU...did not allow a hit until Lance Berkman's 2-run shot with one out in the 6th inning.

CAREER

The most successful Rule 5 selection in the franchise's 37-year history...has posted 62 holds the last 3 seasons, most among NL right-handed relievers...in fact, only 3 pitchers in MLB have more than 62 holds since the beginning of '03: Tom Gordon (76), Scott Eyre (75) and Ray King (65)...has seen hold total rise each season (22 in '05, 21 in '04, 19 as a rookie in '03)...in 214 career appearances, has walked the first batter faced only 6 times...owner of remarkable control, has issued only 1.6 walks per 9.0 innings during career...worked a remarkable 26.2 consecutive scoreless innings from June 18-August 4, 2004...among relief pitchers, Ayala's single-season streak was the longest in MLB since NYY's Mariano Rivera capped the '99 season with a streak of 30.1 innings...it was also the last such streak turned in by a Montreal reliever since Mike Marshall threw 29.1 scoreless innings in '72...other scoreless streak tidbits: Luis' streak was the longest by an Expo since Javier Vazquez tossed a MLB season-high 29.0 consecutive scoreless innings, Aug. 18-Sept. 2, 2003...in '03, Ayala pitched a pseudo perfect game: from May 7-June 1, 2003, retired 27 straight batters, the longest such streak in MLB since '01...has agreed to participate in the '05 World Baseball Classic for Mexico... often pitches Winter Ball, suiting up for hometown club, the Culiacan Tomato Growers.

2005

Again one of the NL's top middle relievers...battled right elbow troubles the season's final 5 weeks...made just a pair of appearances and faced just 2 batters after Aug. 21,..with one pitch, retired only batter faced on Sept. 22 vs. SFG, but didn't pitch thereafter...one of the NL's most durable relievers, led MLB in relief appearances for much of season, or until the aformentioned bone spur became an issue...had successful surgery to remove a bone spur performed by Dr. Lewis Yokum on Oct. 28 in Los Angeles...set career high in holds with 22...increased holds total for 3rd consecutive seasons (20 in '03, 21 in '04, 22 in '05)...posted sub-2.00 ERA for 3rd straight season, although both batting average and slugging percentage against rose for 3rd time in as many years...stranded 70 percent of inherited baserunners (11 of 37 scored)...scoreless 8th rendered first hold in the history of the Nationals, April 6 at PHI...notched 6 holds in 15-game span, June 2-18...registered team-high 4 wins and 9 holds during Washington's 20-6 month of June... established new career high with 22nd hold in a 4-2 win at COL on August 12...ranked among NL leaders in relief wins (tied for first with 8) and holds (tied for 6th with 22)...excelled against NL East-foes ATL (2-1, 3 holds, 2.84 ERA), PHI (1-0, 2 holds, 1.17 ERA) and FLA (2-0, one hold, 1.80 ERA)...pitched on consecutive days 25 times...retired 42 of 67 first batters faced (63%)...one of 4 Mexicans to play for the '05 Nationals (Vinny Castilla, Esteban Loaiza and Antonio Osuna)...strikeouts per 9 innings was lowest of career...suffered 2 blown saves: July 4 vs. NYM and July 15 at MIL... when making an appearance, Washington went 37-71 (.544).

Game-By-Game Highlights: Worked 1-2-3 9th to earn the save on May 16 vs. MIL...the save washis first since Aug. 25, 2004 vs. LAD...snapped bullpen's string of 11 consecutive losing decisions in 7:05 game on August 18 at PHI.

Followed up stellar rookie season with improved sophomore campaign...was again one of NL top middle relievers, but battled periods of inconsistency...led Montreal relievers and ranked 8th in the NL by appearing in 81 games...set career bests in games, innings (90.1), home runs allowed (6), strikeouts (63), strikeout-to-walk ratio (4.2/1), ERA (2.69), holds (21), games finished (21) and pitches per inning (14.6)...12 losses not only led all MLB relievers, they established a new Expos record for relievers...loss on September 22 vs. NYM was club single-season record 12th loss in relief this season...Mike Marshall lost 11 games for the 1973 Expos...pitched in every series of the season except 2 (June 11-13

runs of offensive support per 9.0 innings (while in the game)...did not win consecutive starts after July 1...went 7-8 with a 3.86 ERA at RFK...was 0-1 with a 3.38 ERA in a pair of starts on 3 days' rest...opponents hit just .183 when the count reached 2 strikes...when getting the starting nod, Washington went 20-15.

Game-By-Game Highlights: After tough Opening Day assignment, regained top form in next start, the 250th of his career, April 9 at FLA...allowed only an unearned run in 7.0 innings and exited in line for the win, but bullpen squandered late lead and was relegated to a no-decision (Washington eventually won, 3-2, in 10 innings)...homered and fired 8.0 strong innings to nab the win in Washington's 5-1 victory on April 29 vs. NYM...the home run was the 6th of his career and the first by a Washington-based pitcher since Pete Broberg went deep off BOS' Roger Moret on September 19, 1971 at RFK...Hernandez's blast was also the first hit by a pitcher in MLB in 2005...went the distance for the first time in '05 in the Nationals' 5-2 win at LAD on May 4...left May 14 start vs. CHI due to an inflamed right knee...on May 15, had MRI which confirmed inflammation in the right knee, which was subsequently drained...needed 150 pitches (81 strikes) to go 9.0 innings on June 3 vs. FLA...while the 150 pitches were not a career high (152 on June 25, 1998 vs. TBR, while pitching for FLA), they were the most thrown by a big league pitcher since CIN's Ron Villone threw 150 on Sept. 29, 2000 at STL...despite the heavy pitch count, earned the win in next start, allowed just 2 runs in 8.0 innings, June 9 vs. OAK...allowed 3 runs in 8.0 innings while outdueling Mark Prior in 4-3 victory at Wrigley Field on July 1... with first place in the NL East on the line, spun 8.0 stellar innings, allowing one run on 5 hits, to out pitch John Smoltz, July 26 at ATL...left in line for the win, but bullpen faltered in an eventual 10-inning 3-2 setback...93-pitch no-decision on August 5 vs. SDP ended string of tossing at least 100 pitches in 19 MLB season-high straight starts...posted 3 hits, including 7th career home run, and 2 RBI, but took the loss, August 10 at HOU..took a shutout into the 9th and settled for win in a 5-2 victory, Sept. 5 vs. FLA...tossed 4-hit complete game, but suffered the loss, September 20 vs. SFG.

Posted numbers remarkably similar to last season, but win total fell from 15 to 11 thanks largely to drastic decline in run support (5.40 in 2003, 3.95 in 2004)...run support was lowest of big league career...thus, losses rose from 10 to 15... Expos went 13-22 when Livan received the starting nod...in twist of fate—and 22-game "home" slate in Puerto Rico, made only 12 of 35 starts in Montreal...yet the Expos' Opening Day starter led the staff in almost every category...more importantly, became the staff leader...led MLB with 255.0 innings pitched (Randy Johnson 2nd with 245.2) and complete games (9)...255.0 innings ranked 9th on Expos' single-season list..again merited serious consideration for Gold Glove (led MLB with 10 double plays)...won the NL Silver Slugger Award for pitchers...hit .247 with 7 doubles, one homer and 10 RBI to earn the citation...ranked among MLB leaders in innings (first), starts (tied for first) and shutouts (tied for 3rd with 2)...ranked among NL leaders in innings (first), complete games, starts (tied for first), strikeouts (9th with 186) and GIDPs induced (tied for 8th with 22)...on the negative side, also ranked among NL leaders in hits allowed (2nd with 234), losses (tied 2nd with 15), earned runs allowed (tied for 9th with 102) and walks (7th with 83)...set career highs in starts, innings, batting average against and slugging percentage against...matched career highs in CG and HBP... though not reflected in W-L record, posted remarkably similar numbers in '04 when compared to '03: starts (33 in '03, 35 in '04), complete games (8, 9), hits allowed (225, 234), homers allowed (27, 26), strikeouts (178, 186), HBP (10, 10), sac flies (4, 4), batting average against (.253, .248), on-base percentage against (.304, .314), slugging percentage against (.389, .387) and GIDPs induced (21, 22)...went at least 8.0 innings in 10 of his final 15 starts...exited the game in line for the win 6 times (10/2 at NYM, 9/5 vs. ATL, 8/15 vs. HOU, 6/6 at CIN, 5/21 vs. SF, 5/11 at MIL) only to have 'pen squander leads...ERA in the game's first 5 innings was 2.78 (53 ER/171.1 IP)...from the 6th inning on, it jumped to 5.27 (49 ER/83.2 IP)...fanned Jeff Conine, April 6 at FLA, to record 1,000th career K...Steve Rodgers, Dennis Martinez and Javier Vazquez only others to record 1,000th as an Expo...in one calendar year–July 1, 2003-June 30, 2004–posted the most quality starts in MLB with 25...Pedro Martinez (24) ranked 2nd...made his 5th Opening Day start, April 6 at FLA, against his initial club...went 6.0 innings...allowed 2 runs but didn't get a decision in game won by FLA, 4-3...list of big league-leading 9 complete games: May 6 vs. COL, May 16 at ARI, June 11 at SEA, July 2 vs. TOR, July 20 at PIT, July 30 at FLA, August 21 at COL, September 16 at FLA and September 21 vs. NYM.

CAREER NOTES

Contrary to perhaps popular belief, has produced stronger offensive and defensive numbers in 2 years with the Nationals/Expos than during 3-year tenure with NYY...the lone exception would be in home runs, where Yankee Stadium's short porch in right field perhaps had an influence (home run frequency: at Yankee Stadium, one per 22.5 at-bats, everywhere else, one per 30.1 at-bats)...a closer look:

CAREER

Slated to make Nationals debut in first season outside of SDP system...spent first 8 professional seasons with the Padres, the last 4 exclusively in San Diego...a proven big league commodity...won 44 games for San Diego from 2002-05, including a career-high 15 in 2004...during the same 4-year span, not only posted more wins than any other Padre, averaged 34 starts and 205.0 innings per season...capped SDP tenure averaging 6.1 innings per starting assignment, and ranked among franchise's all-time leaders in wins (7th with 49 career), innings pitched (9th with 934.0) and games started (8th with 162)...hopes East Coast humidity can help increase ground ball-to-fly ball ratio...owns a career ratio of 1.84/1 (1586 gbo, 862 fbo)...1586 groudn-ball outs the last 5 seasons (2001-05) rank 6th in MLB...only Tim Hudson (1980), Derrek Lowe (1930), Mark Mulder (1831), Greg Maddux (1800) and Roy Halladay (1602) have more GBOs during the same 5-year span...paced the NL in ground-ball outs as recently as 2002 (346)...amazingly fanned the side on only 9 pitches in the third inning on June 12, 2002 at BAL...set down Brook Fordyce, Jerry Hairston and Melvin Mora...at the time, Brian's feat was the 36th confirmed 9-pitch, 3-strikeout inning in the history of the game...signed by SDP scout Mark Wasinger.

In final season with SDP, was again a mainstay in Bruce Bochy's rotation, making 33 starts...reached the 33-start plateau for the 4th straight season...helped Friars earn first NL West crown since 1998...however, lost career-high 15 decisions thanks in large part to lowly run support...ranked among NL (5th) and MLB (tied 8th) leaders in lowest run support (3.68) per 9.0 innings pitched (runs only count while in the game)...received just 2.4 runs per 9.0 innings in 15 losses...spun 2.1 scoreless innings out of bullpen during NLDS vs. STL...posted just 2 wins at Petco Park despite pitching better at home (4.19 ERA) than on the road (5-9, 5.40 ERA)...was 5-6 thru the end of June, but 0-5 in 6 July starting assignments...this, after going 2-1 with a 3.05 ERA in June...posted 1.46/1 ground ball-to-fly ball ratio...only 2 pitchers (Derek Lowe and Jamey Wright) posted higher ratios among NL West clubs...posted 17 quality starts.

Game-By-Game Highlights: Made history, taking the loss in the first-ever 1-0 game at Coors Field, July 9...allowed just one run on 7 hits in 7.1 mile-high innings, yet became the answer to a trivia question...in family affair, earned the win on August 4 at PIT at the expense of brother-in-law Mark Redman...allowed just 3 runs (2 earned) in 6.1 innings to earn bragging rights...capped long season with 9.0 scoreless, 3-hit innings on September 29 vs. SFG, but did not garner a decision in SDP's eventual 1-0 win in 11 innings.

Set career highs in wins (15) and starts (34)...15 wins tied him for 11th on the franchise single-season list...became just the 8th pitcher in franchise history to work 200-or-more innings in 3 straight seasons (Andy Ashby, Bruce Hurst, Eric Show, Ed Whitson, Andy Benes, Randy Jones and Clay Kirby were the first 7)...was SDP's Opening Day starter for the 2nd consecutive season...joined Clay Kirby (1972-73), Randy Jones (1975-77), Gaylord Perry (1978-79), Eric Show (1986-87) and Andy Benes (1993-95) as the only SDP pitchers to receive 2 straight Opening Day nods...established career high with 10 road wins.

Game-By-Game Highlights: Worked on 3 days rest for the first time in his career May 23 at PHI...took the loss, allowing 4 runs on 5 hits in 5.0 innings...matched career high by fanning 10 on May 28 at MIL...posted 10th win on July 5 vs. HOU...with the win became the 13th Padres pitcher, the first since 1998 (Ashby and Kevin Brown) to reach double-figures in wins prior to the All-Star break...won a career-high 4 consecutive decisions April 30-May 19...matched career-high with 12th win August 20 vs. FLA, allowing one run on 5 hits over 9.0 innings...tossed back-to-back complete games, August 20 vs. FLA and August 25 at NYM, including 3rd career SHO on August 25...became the first Padres pitcher to go the distance in consecutive starts since Andy Ashby in 1998...the complete games were the 6th and 7th of his career...for 2nd time in '04, took the ball on 3 days' rest on Sept. 19 at SFG...pitched well (7.0 IP. 2 R, 1 ER), but did not get a decision.

SDP's Opening Day starter...with 10 wins, reached double digits in wins for 2nd consecutive season...by tossing career-high 210.2 innings, became first SDP pitcher to surpass 200-inning plateau in consecutive seasons since Andy Ashby turned the trick in 1998 and '99...ranked 3rd in the NL by recording 346 ground-ball outs...only ATL's Greg Maddux (375) and LAD's Kevin Brown (374) pocketed more...ranked 6th in the NL by inducing 23 GIDPs...6 of 10 wins came at Qualcomm Stadium...also notched a 3.18 home ERA...pitched poorly in the first half, but went 5-5 with a 3.76 ERA (34 ER/81.1 IP) after the All-Star break...allowed 3 or fewer runs in 22 of his 33 starts, including 8 in final 9 assignments... posted a ERA of 2.66 in August and September...boasted a 2.53 ERA (9 ER/32.0 IP) in August and a 2.78 ERA in September (10 ER/32.1 IP)...in first Opening Day assignment, did not get a decision despite allowing just 2 runs on 3 hits in 7.0 innings...SFG prevailed, 5-2...hit first career homer, a solo shot, on April 11 vs. COL off Darren Oliver...the long ball was the first hit by a SDP pitcher since Dennis Tankersley on May 26, 2002 at MIL...was the first SDP pitcher to go deep at The Q since Joey Hamilton, May 22, 1997.

In first full big league season, was SDP's most dependable and consistent starter...led the team in wins (12), shutouts (2), innings (210.0) and strikeouts (149)...averaged a team-high 6.2 innings per start...established career highs in virtually every major category...was 11-6 with a 3.25 ERA after posting a 6-2 win on August 14 vs. New York (NL), but went 1-6 with a 5.87 ERA (25 ER/38.1 IP) thereafter...ranked among NL leaders in SHO (tied for 4th with 2), fewest walks per 9.0 innings (tied for 6th at 2.2), hits allowed (4th with 230) and hit batsmen (6th with 11)...allowed 2 earned runs or fewer in 16 of 31 starting assignments, including one or none 9 times...allowed 3 runs or less in 5 of 8 no-decisions...suffered from a lack of offensive support, as SDP plated one run or less in 6 of 31 starts...registered ERA of 3.86 in those 6 starts...led the NL with 386 ground-ball outs...tied with Livan Hernandez for the NL lead with 29 GIDPs induced...only Tim Hudson (35) and Jon Garland (32) in the AL had more in all of baseball...among NL pitchers, ranked behind only Mike Hampton (1.41) by recording 1.24 GIDPs per 9.0 innings pitched...led the NL with a 386/154 ground ball-to-fly ball ratio (or 2.51/1.0)...also led the NL as 71.5 percent of balls put in play were ground balls...pitched well against division foes, going 6-4 with a 3.28 ERA (30 ER/82.1 IP) against LAD, COL, SFG and ARI...faced the Dodgers 7 times (4 starts), but only made one appearance against the Giants...recorded his 10th victory in a 5-2 win, August 2 vs. CIN...reached the 10-win plateau quicker than any Padre since 2000, when Matt Clement evened his 2000 record at 10-10 by earning the win on August 2 vs. PHI...after going 0-4 at home in 2001, improved to 6-5 with a 3.57 ERA at The Q in '02...posted his first career win at The Q in an 8-0 complete-game shutout April 8 vs. ARI...on Sept. 13 vs. LAD, became the first Padre to eclipse the 200-inning barrier since Matt Clement worked 205.0 innings in 1999... despite not taking his final 2 turns in the rotation, missed ranking among the NL's top 10 in innings pitched by just 6.0 innings...tossed 2 complete games: April 8 vs. ARI and July 17 at LAD...fanned the side on only 9 pitches in the 3rd inning June 12 at BAL...set down Brook Fordyce, Jerry Hairston and Melvin Mora...made his 31st and final start of the year, September 13 vs. SFG...would have made a team-high 33 starts, but pitched out of the bullpen the final 14 games of the year as a precaution...recorded his first career hold in an 8-4 win Sept. 20 vs. LAD...fanned a career-best 10 twice: June 1 vs. MIL and August 2 vs. CIN...opposing batters hit just .209 with RISP and 2 outs...gave up only one home run in the first inning all season (Derrek Lee, August 24 vs. FLA).

CAREER NOTES

Although vast potential came to fruition in 2005, career came full circle a year prior, in 2004...was Montreal's first pick (5th overall) in the 1996 First-Year Player Draft out of Orange-Stark (TX) High...became a free agent on a technicality (not tendered an offer by the Expos by stated deadline) and signed with ARI as a free agent on November 7, 1996... after going 3-4 with a 5.04 ERA for the D-Backs from 2002-03, was acquired by Montreal in final week of Spring Training to add depth to a starting rotation that began the season without Tony Armas Jr. (May 2003 right-shoulder surgery)...is 13-14 with a 3.76 ERA (124 ER/296.2 IP) in 50 starts or 2 seasons with the Nationals/Expos...has recorded 26 quality starts in 50 assignments (52%) since returning to his "original" franchise.

Burnett...when toeing the rubber, Washington went 17-14.

PLAYERS

SAM RICE'S DYSLEXIC DEBUT

Sam Rice, Hall of Fame class of '63 (one of 3 players to don a Washington cap in the HOF), has the most hits in big league history (2,987) without being a member of the exclusive 3,000-hit club (of which there are currently 26 members). However, Rice's big league debut strangely came as a pitcher. On August 7, 1915 vs. CWS, Rice pitched out of the bullpen. In the same game, teammate and fellow future Hall-of-Famer Walter Johnson started in right field for the Senators due to an injury.

Rice pitched much of his first 2 AL seasons before shifting to the outfield, where he completed his stellar career as a .302 hitter with 1078 RBI in 20 seasons (19 with Washington, one with CLE). In baseball lore, he is perhaps best known for a controversial play in the 1925 World Series, a series ultimately claimed by the Pirates in 7 games.

In one of the most famous plays in World Series history, Rice fell into the stands in Game 3 , seemingly robbing PIT's Earl Smith of a home run. With he and the ball out of view in the crowded stands, the umpire could not tell if Rice had held on to the ball. Rice emerged with the ball safely in his glove and Smith was called out, prompting an argument by PIT's bench. Rice was cryptic about the play, guarding the details of what happened in the stands as if he enjoyed the intrigue. Several years later, prompted by the Hall of Fame, Rice penned a letter explaining the incident, asking that it not be opened until after his death. In part, it read: "At no time did I lose possession of the ball." Sam Rice had kept the information of his most famous play a secret all those years.

CAREER NOTES

At 6-foot-11, is the tallest pitcher in major-league history...trumped 6-foot-10 Randy Johnson upon making his big league debut on April 2, 2002 at SEA...both Rauch and Johnson wore No. 51 with the Expos...the 2 spent 6 Cactus League campaigns "together" in Tucson, as the ChiSox and D-Backs share a training facility and Tucson Electric Park... spanning parts of 3 appearances, August 8–September 15, 2003, recorded 28 straight outs without allowing a hit (a pseudo no-hitter)...at the plate, is one of just 2 pitchers to ever homer off Future Hall-of-Famer Roger Clemens (NYM's Shawn Estes, June 15, 2002, vs. NYY is the other)...Jon hit a 2-run opposite-field homer off the Rocket on August 13, 2004 vs. HOU...a member of Team USA club, along with former National Brad Wilkerson, that claimed Gold Medal at the 2000 Sydney Olympics...during Olympic tournament, went 1-0 with a 0.82 ERA (1 ER/11.0 IP) with 21 strikeouts in 2 appearances (one start)...21 strikeouts were one shy of the Olympic record (Ben Wallace, 22 in 1992)...threw a complete-game, 3-hitter with no walks and 13 strikeouts in a victory vs. South Africa on September 18...allowed one run on 3 hits in 4.0 innings in loss on September 23 vs. Cuba...struck out 8 Cubans...was recommended/signed by George Bradley and Larry Grefer (CWS).

Ground through injury-plagued season, but pitched well when not on the DL, going 2-4 with a 3.60 ERA in 15 games (one start)...began the season in the minors...was recalled from New Orleans on April 25 after Joe Horgan was optioned... made '05 debut that night with 2.0 scoreless innings vs. PHI...fired 3.0 no-hit scoreless innings of relief to earn first win in 9-3 victory, May 6 at SFG...walked 4, fanned 2...pitched on May 25 at CIN, but was placed on the DL that night with a torn right labrum...had arthroscopic surgery performed by Dr. Wiemi Douoguih on May 31 to repair labrum tear (labrum/rotator cuff debridement) in right shoulder...began throwing 6 weeks later...returned to action on September 8 at FLA after missing 102 games...made first big league start of the season on Sept. 28 at FLA...despite not learning of assignment until 4:10 p.m., worked 3.0 scoreless innings and tallied the game-winning RBI in the Nationals' 11-1 win via a 2nd-inning infield single...posted batting average against of .218...stranded 9 of 10 inherited baserunners (90%)...retired 13 of 14 (93%) first batters faced...2 of 4 losses came in extra-inning games...both wins came against SFG...went 1-0 with a 1.35 ERA (1 ER/6.2 IP) at RFK, where opposing batters hit just .130 (3-for-23)...opponents hit just .179 when the count reached 2 strikes...when appearing, Washington went 5-10.

Rehab Assignment: Began a rehab assignment with New Orleans, August 26...posted a 2.57 ERA in 4 games (2 starts)... went 3.0 innings in final rehab tuneup, Sept. 5 at Iowa...was reinstated from the DL by Washington, Sept. 6.

Split season not only between Triple-A and big leagues, but between CWS and Expos organizations...combined on a 4-1 record and a 2.81 ERA in 11 big league games (4 starts) for the ChiSox and Expos...began season with Triple-A Charlotte and made 2 starts for CWS before being acquired by the Expos in 3-player deal that sent Carl Everett back to the Windy City...performed well after the trade for both Edmonton and Expos...pitched just twice for the Expos before missing 29 games with a strained left oblique...was placed on the 15-Day DL on August 15 (retro to August 14)...was reinstated from DL on September 14...allowed only one run in his final 8 games (one start) or 17.1 innings with the Expos...made 2 starts for CWS during a pair of big league stints...was recalled on May 29, pitched that night vs. ANA (took the loss) and was optioned back to Triple-A the same day...earned the win on June 24 vs. CLE, allowing one run on 6 hits in 5.0 innings, in his final outing with the ChiSox...after the trade, was recalled by the Expos on August 6...

CAREER NOTES

High ceiling lefthander joins Nationals in hopes of completing return from successful September 2003 left-elbow reconstructive surgery (a.k.a "Tommy John" surgery)...NYM's first-round selection in the 2000 First-Year Player Draft, has not pitched at the big league level since going 6-9 with a 5.24 ERA in 33 games (18 starts) for CLE in 2003 (just 3rd complete pro season)...rated NYM's No. 5 prospect entering the 2002 season according to Baseball America (also NYM's No. 8 in '01, CLE's No. 9 entering '03)...was the first left-handed pitcher taken in the 2000 First-Year Player Draft...following the draft, agreed to terms with NYM on a large bonus, but accepted lesser contract after ligament damage was discovered in left elbow.

Went combined 8-11 with a 4.83 ERA in 28 games (21 starts) at 3 levels in CLE's system...tossed 132.1 innings after missing the entire '04 campaign due to shoulder surgery...averaged 6.5 K's per 9.0 innings...predictably, struggled with command, especially during stint with Triple-A Buffalo (3.5 walks per 9.0 innings).

In minor leagues: Began season with Kinston of the Single-A Carolina League...made first post-surgery start came April 10 vs. Winston Salem...earned the win, allowing one run on 4 hits in 6.0 innings...struck out 4...spun 6.0 three-hit shut-out innings to nab the win in 2nd start, April 16 at Frederick...graduated to the Double-A Eastern League in May... recorded quality start in 4 of 5 EL starting assignments...allowed only one run on 5 hits and a walk in 7.2 innings during 2005 Triple-A debut, May 31 vs. Toledo...struck out 9 in just 6.0 innings to earn the win, June 11 at Louisville...shifted to bullpen for much of season's final month and posted a 1.89 ERA (4 ER/19.0 IP)...in all, when facing left-handed IL hitters, posted a batting average against of .200 (17-for-85).

Did not pitch in 2004 while rehabbing from September 2003 left-elbow reconstructive surgery.

Pitching for CLE, showed flashes during his rookie campaign in the major leagues...first big league season came to a halt in September due to a torn ligament in his left throwing elbow that required surgery...tied for 4th among AL rookie pitchers in strikeouts (88), tied for 8th in wins (6)...also ranked among AL rookie leaders in innings (6th with 111.2), ERA (5th at 5.24)...was one of 4 AL rookies to notch a shutout in 2003...made the club after an impressive spring, going 1-0 with a 1.59 ERA in 7 Grapefruit League contests...fanned 15 in 17 spring innings...converted to relief midway through Spring camp after spending the first 2 years of professional career in a starting role...worked 3.0 one-hit shut-out innings in big league debut on April 4 at KCR...made spot start in place of injured Brian Anderson, the first of his major league career, on April 24 at SEA...took the loss, allowing 3 runs in 4.1 innings of a tough-luck 4-2 setback...with a scoreless 8th inning, picked up first major league win on May 16...beginning May 28, spent the remainder of his season in the starting rotation...recorded first win as a starter on June 27 vs. CIN thanks to 7.0 shutout innings of 5-hit ball... was limited to just 2 starts in September due to elbow soreness...had successful reconstructive surgery, performed on left elbow by Dr. Lewis Yokum, on September 29 in Los Angeles, CA...posted an impressive .219 (25-for-114) batting average against when facing left-handed batters.

The One-Hitter: Tossed a complete game, one-hit shutout, July 8 vs. NYY...did not walk a batter and struck out 5 during the masterpiece...the feat was the first one-hitter by an Indian since Bartolo Colon turned the trick on September 18, 2000 at NYY, and the first by a CLE rookie since Tom Kramer on May 24, 1993...also became the first CLE rookie pitcher to throw a complete game, one-hit shutout since Herb Score went the distance on July 30, 1955 at BAL...in addition to being the first one-hit complete-game shutout by an Indian in Jacobs Field, it was the first one-hit complete-game shutout by a CLE pitcher in Cleveland since Tom Candiotti on August 3, 1987 vs. NYY...was the first big league rookie pitcher to toss a one-hit, zero-walk, complete-game shutout since Kerry Wood (May 6, 1998 vs. HOU, Wood's famous 20-K effort).

CAREER NOTES

One of the Nationals speediest players...has 163 stolen bases in 7 minor league seasons (average of 23 stolen bags per season)...is the godson of 2-time NL All-Star outfielder Eric Davis...signed by Expos scout Mark Baca.

2005

Turned in excellent minor-league season to earn first taste of the big leagues...made spectacular big league debut, going 2-for-5 with a double, homer, one RBI and 2 runs scored in Washington's 6-5 win at HOU, August 9...became the first National/Expo to homer in his big league debut since Brad Fullmer (September 2, 1997 vs. BOS)....struggled thereafter, going 1-for-14 with 2 walks in next 4 games before being optioned back to New Orleans...joined the Nationals in September/October, appearing in 20 games.

In minor leagues: Ranked among Nationals minor leaguers in batting (2nd at .324), hits (2nd with 168) and stolen bases (first with 38)...168 hits also tied for 14th in all of minor league baseball...hit .290 in 34 games with Harrisburg before promotion to New Orleans...hit .355 with 15 doubles, one homer and 25 RBI in 88 games for the Zephyrs... posted 4 hits in '05 Triple-A debut, May 16 at Sacramento...batted .399 in 43 away games for the Zephyrs...scored 69 runs in 88 PCL contests...355 batting average would have ranked 3rd in PCL with enough plate appearances to qualify...posted 42 multi-hit contests during PCL tenure.

2004

At age of 23, hit .293 with 22 stolen bases in first Triple-A season playing for Edmonton of the Pacific Coast League... closed the season on a strong note, posting 6 consecutive multi-hit efforts, including a 5-for-5 performance in the season finale, September 6 at Fresno...the late-season 6-game surge raised final batting average to .293 from .279... hitting just .279 at the end of July, batted .331 thereafter...played majority of time in CF, but also played in 9 games in LF...nevertheless, 22 stolen bases ranked 4th among Expos minor leaguers...walked only 31 times in 139 games... went 4-for-5 with 2 doubles and 3 RBI on August 3 at Nashville.

2003

Advanced to Double-A Eastern League for the first time...batted .319 and nearly set career high with .362 on-base percentage...hit .300 or better for 3rd time in 5 professional seasons...set career highs in batting, games (139), runs (86), doubles (17) and RBI (39)...ranked 3rd in both batting and runs scored among all Montreal minor leaguers... ranked among Eastern League leaders in hits (2nd), games (2nd), batting (5th) and runs (6th)...led the circuit with 565 at-bats...180 hits not only trailed only Alexis Rios (181) among Eastern League players, they set a new single-season Harrisburg franchise record (former mark was 172, set by Tommy Gregg in '87)...played exclusively in CF, while hitting leadoff for vast majority of season...batted .378 after June...17 of his 24 extra-base hits came during the season's final 2 months...hit safely in career-high 19 straight games from July 30-August 17...hit .449 during the 19-game run...went 6-for-6 on July 4 at Akron (all singles)...became the first Senator to record 6 hits in a single game since Ron Johns turned the trick on June 17, 1987...registered 4 hits on 5 occasions (May 23 at Portland, May 29 at New Britain, June 28 vs. Bowie, July 1 vs. Portland and August 3 vs. Norwich)...hit above .300 against both left- (.324) and right-handed (.316) pitchers...batted .333 with runners on base, including .427 (35-for-82) with runners on and 2 outs...hit .350 in road games...swiped 18 bases, but failed to record at least 20 for the first time in 4 seasons...recorded 8 outfield assists.

CAREER NOTES

With stellar and unique 2005 season in the books, enters '06 rated as the Nationals' No. 1 prospect according to Baseball America...with NL All-Star Chad Cordero (20th overall selection in '03) and Ryan Zimmerman (4th overall selection in '05) ending the season in the big leagues, the Nationals were the only club in MLB with a pair of first-round selections from the last 3 First-Year Player drafts ('03-05) on their season-ending roster...was the 2nd player, the first position player, from the 2005 First-Year Player Draft to reach the big leagues (ATL RHP Joey Devine—27th overall—was first)...was the 2nd of 2 Virginians to be selected in the first 4 picks of the 2005 First-Year Player Draft (SS Justin Upton from Great Bridge, VA was taken by ARI with the draft's first overall selection)...baseball experience expands far beyond the college level, as he was named MVP at the FIFU II World University Games, played during the summer of 2004 in Taiwan... led or tied for the Team USA club lead in all 3 triple crown categories, hitting .468 with 4 home runs and 27 RBI...for his efforts, was named USA Baseball's Athlete of the Year in 2004...while playing for Team USA, was teammates with 3B Alex Gordon, who was taken 2nd overall by KCR in the 2005 First-Year Player Draft...defensive propensity at the hot corner forced Gordon's shift to first base for the summer...using wood bats, summer offensive numbers (.468, 4 homers, 27 RBI) also out produced those of Gordon (.388, 4 homers, 12 RBI) .

Completed dream season, producing success at the collegiate, minor league and big league levels...began year as UVa's 3B...capped season as Frank Robinson's starting 3B in a pennant race...using wood bats, hit more homers (9) in 5 weeks of Double-A ball than in 3 seasons at UVa swinging an aluminum bat...on June 7, was the first draft selection in the history of the Nationals, the 4th overall selection out of Virginia...upon being promoted on Sept. 1, became the 2nd franchise first-rounder to reach the big leagues in the same season he was drafted...joined Chad Cordero, who pitched for the Expos in August of 2003 after being selected 20th overall in June...also became the first player to be signed and developed exclusively by the Washington Nationals...in other words, was the Nationals' first home-grown product, as opposed to those drafted and/or developed by the Expos...in 2nd at-bat, collected first big league hit, a double off Vicente Padilla, September 2 vs. PHI...with the initial hit, became the youngest franchise player (20 years, 339 days) to record a hit since Vladimir Guerrero in Sept. of 1996...was also the first player from the '05 draft to record a hit in the big leagues...hit .397 (23-for-58) with 10 doubles and 6 RBI in 20 games for Washington...September performance reminiscent of the most successful September call up in MLB history: Hall-of-Famer Stan Musial hit .426 (20-for-47) for STL after being recalled from Triple-A Rochester in September of '41....in the throes of a Wild Card chase, made first major league start, at SS, on Sept. 7 vs. FLA...doubled in first plate appearance against John Smoltz, September 11 vs. ATL...later in the same game, snapped 6-6 tie with 2-out go-ahead single in the 8th inning off Chris Reitsma (ATL, however, rallied to win the game with 3-run 9th inning)...down 5-4, led off 9th inning with double to spark game-tying rally and eventual 6-5 win in 10 innings, Sept. 15 at NYM...started 12 games (11 at 3B)...hit .318 (7-for-22) with 2 strikes...went 16-for-42 (.381) with 6 doubles in 15 games at RFK...hit above .300 against all 5 teams faced...when in the starting lineup, Washington went 4-8.

In minor leagues: Began pro career with 4-game stint in the Single-A South Atlantic League...went 0-for-4 in professional debut, June 21 vs. Charleston, but rebounded with trio of multi-hit games, June 22-24...hit first pro homer on June 22 at Charleston...posted 3 hits, including a double, in Double-A debut on June 25 vs. Akron...after slow start, adjusted to bat .372 (58-for-156) in final 41 Double-A games...following season, was rated by the same publication as the No. 5 prospect in the Eastern League, despite playing in just 63 games for Harrisburg.

PERSONAL

Ryan W. Zimmerman...single...participated in the Nationals' 2006 Winter Caravan...a standout at nearby University of Virginia...hit .393 with 6 home runs and 59 RBI as a senior in 2005 and helped Virginia earn a 2nd consecutive NCAA berth...capped collegiate career as a .355 career hitter with 47 doubles and 140 RBI in 3 seasons at UVa...helped the Cavaliers end the program's 8-year post-season void with a pair of NCAA berths in '04 and '05...despite playing just 3 collegiate seasons, Zimmerman is ranked among Virginia's all-time top 10 in hits (6th with 250), doubles (5th with 47) and RBI (7th with 140)...established a new school record for hits in a season (92)...was first UVa player to be selected in first round since Seth Greisinger was tabbed with 6th overall selection in the 1996 First-Year Player Draft.

2005 YEAR IN REVIEW

ONE DOWN, MANY MANY MANY TO GO

The Washington Nationals completed their inaugural season with an 81-81 (.500) record...the Nationals finished 5th in the NL East, 9.0 games behind ATL in the NL East, and 8.0 games behind HOU in the NL Wild Card.

- The Nationals' 81-81 effort ran the franchise's all-time record to 2836-3024-4.

SOME 2005 FACTS

The 2005 Nationals employed the services of a MLB-leading 55 players, trumping the former club mark, 49, set by the 2000 Expos...25 pitchers toed the rubber for the Nationals, 15 of which started at least one game for Frank Robinson and pitching coach Randy St. Claire.

- The Nationals' 81-81 record tied for 8th in the NL and for 15th in MLB (MIL also finished 81-81)...among NL clubs, Washington's 81 wins were trumped by only 3 teams outside of the NL East (STL, HOU and SDP).
- Washington's 81-81 record rendered the franchise's 3rd .500 record in 37 NL seasons...the Expos went 81-81 in both 1988 and 1989.
- The Nationals posted the first non-losing season for a Washington-based MLB team since the '69 Senators went 86-76.
- The Nationals peaked at 19 games above .500 on July 3 and July 5...however, Washington went just 30-49 (.398) in its final 79 games starting July 6.
- Washington won 21 percent more games (81) than the Expos (67) did in their final season in Montreal.
- Washington registered a winning record in games decided by 2 runs (16-11), home games (41-40) and games on natural grass (80-79).
- Montreal finished .500 when facing both opposing left- (23-23) and right-handed pitchers (58-58).
- The Nationals registered losing records in extra-inning games (6-11), shutouts (9-11), one-run games (30-31), road games (40-41), games on artificial turf (1-2), day games (25-30), night games (48-69), games against NL East rivals (34-41), and games against the NL Central (19-20).
- The Nationals suffered their 3,000th loss as a franchise with a 2-1 loss in the first of 2 games played on August 18 at PHI (according to Elias Sports Bureau, the day's events did not constitute a doubleheader).
- Washington's 81-81 record will render the 15th selection in the 2006 First-Year Player Draft...the Nationals will pick higher that MIL, which also finished 81-81, because the 2 clubs split 8 games this season, but the 2nd tie breaker is 2004 record...the Expos' '04 winning percentage (.414) was lower than MIL (.416), so the Nationals will pick higher than the Brewers next June.

YOUTH SERVED

6 players, including 2 pitchers, made big league debuts as Expos this season: Jason Bergmann (August 28 vs. STL), Tyrell Godwin (May 27 at STL), Darrell Rasner (September 6 vs. FLA), Rick Short (June 10 vs. SEA), Brandon Watson (August 9 at HOU), Ryan Zimmerman (September 1 at ATL).

- When Brandon Watson homered off HOU's Ezequiel Astacio in his big league debut on August 9 at Minute Maid Park, he became the franchise's first player to go deep in a MLB debut since Brad Fullmer turned the trick at Brett Sabrehagen's expense, September 2, 1997 vs. BOS.

180 DEGREES OF SEPARATION

Thanks to an 81-win season, the Nationals posted 14 more wins than last season, when the final version of the Expos finished 67-95...the Nationals' victory differential of +14, compared to last season, tied for 3rd in MLB...a closer look:

CLUB	'05 RECORD	'04 RECORD	WIN DIFFERENTIAL
ARI	77-85 (.475)	51-111 (.315)	+26
CWS	99-63 (.611)	83-79 (.512)	+16
Washington/Montreal	81-81 (.500)	67-95 (.414)	+14
MIL	81-81 (.500)	67-94 (.416)	+14
CLE	93-69 (.574)	80-82 (.494)	+13
NYM	83-79 (.512)	71-91 (.414)	+12
TOR	80-82 (.494)	67-94 (.416)	+13
SEA	69-93 (.426)	63-99 (.389)	+6
LAA	95-67 (.586)	92-70 (.568)	+3
PHI	88-74 (.543)	86-76 (.531)	+2

SMOOTHER ROAD

40-41 on the road, the Nationals posted 8 more road wins than in 2004, when the Expos went 32-49 on the road.

- Washington reached the 40-road-win plateau for just the 7th time in the franchise's 37 NL seasons...a list of the Expos' 7 seasons with at least 40 road wins: 2005 (40-41), 1994 (42-20), 1992 (44-37), 1987 (43-38), 1986 (42-39), 1985 (40-40) and 1982 (46-35).

- Washington's 40 road wins were more than any Expos club posted since the 1994 edition went an astounding 42-20 outside of Quebec.

- Washington capped its '05 road slate winning 17 of its final 27 games dating to July 31...18 of the Nationals' 29 post All-Star break victories came on the road.

- During its inaugural campaign, Washington posted a remarkable 4 winning roadtrips on the season lasting 9 or more games...the list is highlighted by a super 7-6 trek August 9-21 (1-2 at HOU, 3-0 at COL, 2-2 at PHI, 1-2 at NYM) that featured the franchise's first 3-game sweep at Coors Field, August 12-14...the Nationals also went 5-4 on a trio of separate roadtrips: April 4-13 (2-1 at PHI, 1-2 at FLA, 2-1 at ATL), May 2-11 (2-1 at LAD, 2-1 at SFG, 1-2 at ARI) and June 13-22 (2-1 at LAA, 1-2 at TEX, 2-1 at PIT).

- Washington's 40 road wins ranked 5th in the NL.

- The Nationals were one of just 9 teams to increase their road win total from last season...Washington's +8 road differential ranked 4th in MLB (2nd in the NL) behind only ARI (+19), CWS (+15) and CLE (+14).

- Personal road highlights: 21 of Jose Guillen's 24 home runs came on the road...Guillen finished just one road homer shy of matching Andre Dawson's franchise record for road home runs in a season..."Hawk" hit 22 road homers for the '83 Expos...the single-season baseball in DC record for most road homers is held by Frank Howard (26 in '68)...Livan Hernandez won a career-high 8 road games.

OPEN SESAME ... NATIONALS LOSE HISTORIC FIRST GAME

PHI spoiled the fun by topping the Nationals, 8-4, in the April 4 season opener at Citizens Bank Park...the Nationals lost despite posting 13 hits and 3 walks...Washington, however, went 0-for-5 with runners in scoring position, grounded into one double play and stranded 10 baserunners.

- Sledge tallied 3 of Washington's 4 RBI in the loss.

- The franchise's longest tenured player, Jose Vidro, made his 7th Opening Day start and finished 1-for-5...Vidro, whose Opening Day reign began on 1998 (but does not include '99, as Wilton Guerrero started at 2B), has now hit safely in 6 consecutive season openers at a .462 clip (12-for-26) with 2 home runs and 7 RBI.

- Nick Johnson's 2 hits on Monday were his first on Opening Day...Johnson had gone 0-for-7 in a pair of Opening Day starts for NYY in 2002 and '03...Johnson was NYY's DH in both games.

- (Apologies to Jeopardy's Alex Trebek)...the answer is "Tony Blanco"...who was first player to play for the Nationals without ever suiting up for another big league team in his career?...of the 17 players to play in Monday's historic contest, Blanco is the lone National to have never played for the Expos or another big league club.

- The loss dropped the Nationals franchise to 18-19 on Opening Day...including the original Nationals/Senators, Washington-based clubs are now 34-38 on Opening Day.

WHEN IS LAST IS FIRST?

On Monday, "The Last Expo," a.k.a. Brad Wilkerson, posted the first hit in the history of the Washington Nationals.

- Bruce Bochy's starting first baseman during MLB's 2004 post-season tour of Japan, Wilkerson was dubbed "The Last Expo" by the Japanese media contingent because he was the final player to don the Expos pinstripes in big league sanctioned contest.

HOT CORNER COMINGS AND GOINGS

On April 4 at PHI, Vinny Castilla became the franchise's 9th different Opening Day 3B since Larry Parrish (1975-81) and Tim Wallach (1982-91) monopolized the position for 17 straight seasons from 1975-91.

- Since Parrish and Wallach left the Expos, the franchise has employed Tony Batista (2004), Fernando Tatis (2001, '01), Chris Truby (2002), Michael Barrett (1999-2000), Shane Andrews (1996-98), Sean Berry (1994-95), Frank Bolick (1993) and Bret Barberie (1992) on Opening Day at the hot corner.

BROOM BRIGADE

The Nationals capped a 3-game sweep of ARI in their first series at RFK Stadium, April 14-17...of the 30 active MLB teams and ballparks, the home club recorded a sweep in the first series at their new venue 8 times...a closer look:

TEAM	BALLPARK	SERIES DURATION	DATES/OPP
Washington	RFK Stadium	3 games	April 14-17, 2005 vs. ARI
MIL	Miller Park	3 games	April 6-8, 2001 vs. CIN
ATL	Turner Field	3 games	April 4-6, 1997 vs. CHI
COL	Coors Field	2 games	April 26-27, 1995 vs. NYM
CLE	Jacobs Field	2 games	April 4-7, 1994 vs. SEA
NYY	Yankee Stadium	4 games	April 18-21, 1923 vs. BOS
CHI	Wrigley Field	2 games	April 20-21, 1916 vs. CIN
BOS	Fenway Park	one game	April 20, 1912 vs. NYY

AND ON THE 7TH DAY ...

With a 6-3 setback vs. NYM on May 1, the Nationals/Expos received their first ESPN Sunday Night Baseball exposure since May 28, 1995 (a 5-1 win vs. LAD at The Big O).

YOGI ALWAYS SAYS ...

Each of the Nationals' 10 wins from May 22-June 7 were of the come-from-behind variety...the Nationals' streak of 10 straight come-back wins was the longest in MLB since STL posted a 10-game streak of their own, April 5-26, 2002...the franchise record for consecutive wins of the come-from-behind variety remains 11, set by Montreal, August 4-26, 1987.

HOMESTAND FOR THE AGES

From May 30-June 12, the Nationals completed their longest homestand of the season with an astounding 12-1 record...some of the highlights of the homestand to end all DC homestands:

- Washington entered the homestand 25-25 (.500), 3.5 games off the pace in the crowded NL East...by homestand's end, the Nationals led the NL East by 1.5 games with a record of 37-26 (.587).
- Washington's 12-1 homestand was matched by PHI, who capped an identical 12-1 'stand of their own during the same 2-week period...according to the good folks at Elias SportsBureau, the 12 wins recorded by Washington and PHI matched the most wins by any club on a single homestand the last 35 years...5 other clubs posted 12-win homestands during that time, most recently the 1994 Royals (July 25-August 7)...before the Nationals and Phillies turned the trick, the last team to win 12 or more games on a homestand with fewer than 2 losses was MIN, which went 14-1 from July 4-17, 1969.
- The 12-win homestand also matched the franchise record for wins on a single homestand...Montreal went 12-4 from August 26-September 11, 1983.
- The Nationals went 7-1 in one-run games on the 12-1 homestand...with close games the norm—8 of the 12 games were decided by one run—Chad Cordero successfully converted all 8 of his save opportunities on the homestand.
- Washington batted .282 (114-for-403) with just 7 home runs on the homestand...however, the Nationals homestand performance with runners in scoring position: 39-for-115 (.339).
- On the mound, Washington pitchers posted a 2.50 ERA (33 ER/119.0 IP) on the 12-1 homestand...starting pitchers—who did not allow more than 2 earned runs during the 13 games—went 6-0 with a 2.02 ERA (18 ER/80.1 IP) on the 'stand, while the relief corps posted a 3.49 ERA, but registered 10 holds and 8 saves.

PERFECT 10

The Nationals matched a franchise record with a 10-game winning streak, June 2-12...the 10-game run matched the longest winning streak in MLB in '05 (NYY also posted a 10-game winning streak)...the 10-game run featured 3-game sweeps of FLA, OAK and SEA...the Nationals' 10-game run came to an abrupt halt via an 11-1 loss on June 13 at LAA.

- In 36 NL seasons, the Expos won 10 straight games 3 times: June 6-16, 1997; June 4-13, 1980; August 28-September 6, 1979).
- By winning 10 in a row, the Nationals matched the longest winning streak of Frank Robinson's managerial career... Frank's SFG club also claimed 10 straight victories, August 3-11, 1982.
- Before the Nationals 10-game surge, a Washington-based MLB club had not won 10 straight games since the 1943 AL Nationals (unofficially known as the Senators) posted 10 consecutive victories from September 10-22.

THANKS A MILLION

On June 11 vs. SEA, the Nationals surpassed the one-million mark in attendance in just their 32nd opening...one day later, in their 33rd opening (June 12 vs. SEA), the Nationals established a new baseball in DC single-season record for attendance thanks to a Sunday-afternoon crowd of 37,146.

- The former baseball in DC record was set in 1946, when the AL Nationals drew 1,027,216 despite finishing 4th, 33.0 games behind pennant-winning BOS.

THE AMERICAN WAY

By going a robust 12-6 in interleague action, Washington posted its first a winning interleague mark since going an identical 12-6 in 2002.

- The Nationals led the NL with their 12 interleague wins.
- Washington designated hitters went 8-for-37 (.216) with 2 doubles and 4 RBI in 9 games in AL ballparks.

JUNE BOON

The Nationals went 20-6 in June, posting just the 2nd 20-win month in franchise history (Montreal went 23-11 in September of 1979, with the help of 8 doubleheaders).

- Washington entered June trailing first place ATL and FLA by 1.5 games with a 27-25 record...they exited June with a record of 47-31 and a season-high 4.5-game lead in the NL East.
- At .769, Washington's June winning percentage in June was the franchise's best in 37 NL seasons (complete months only).
- A look at MLB's best June records:

CLUB	JUNE RECORD	PCT.	GB
Washington	20-6	.769	—
CWS	18-7	.720	1.5
BOS and LAA	17-9	.654	3.0

- En route to their record-setting 20-6 June, the Nationals hit .261 with 22 home runs...Washington averaged 4.5 runs per game...on the pitching side, the Nationals registered a 3.65 ERA.

INDEPENDENCE DAY AND DC BASEBALL

On July 4, Washington hosted MLB on Independence Day for the first time in 13,514 days, or since a 4-2 victory vs. NYY in 1968...however, NYM topped the Nationals, 5-2, to end Washington's 6-game winning streak.

- From 1900-2005, Washington has hosted baseball 36 times on Independence Day, including 26 twinbills...Washington is 28-31-3 in those 62 contests on Independence Day.

LIVO AND CHIEF TAKE DETROIT

RHP Livan Hernandez (12-3, 3.48 at the ASB) and RHP Chad Cordero (2-1, MLB-leading 31 saves, 1.13 ERA at the ASB) were the first 2 players to represent the Nationals in the All-Star Game, which was played July 12 at Comerica Park in Detroit, MI.

- Hernandez pitched the 4th inning, allowing 2 runs on 2 hits and a walk, and thus, became the first National to appear in a Mid-Summer Classic...he ended his first All-Star appearance by picking Ichiro Suzuki off first base...Chad Cordero fanned the only batter he faced—DET's Ivan Rodriguez—in his All-Star debut...he spelled SDP's Jake Peavy to record the final out of the 8th inning.
- Thanks to Livo and Chief, the franchise sported multiple All-Stars for the first time since 2002, when Vladimir Guerrero and Jose Vidro represented the Expos at Miller Park...the last time the Nationals/Expos All-Star contingent included 2 pitchers was '78, when Ross Grimsley and Steve Rogers wore Expos red, white and blue in San Diego.
- The last time 2 players represented Washington in a Mid-Summer Classic was in '69, when OF Frank Howard and LHP Darold Knowles suited up for the AL in the 2nd of 2 All-Star Games played at RFK Stadium.

NOT EXACTLY 11TH HEAVEN

The Nationals bullpen dropped a franchise-record 11 consecutive decisions from July 4-August 5...8 of the 11 losses came in one-run games.

- Strangely, the bullpen's ERA from July 4-August 5 was a respectable 3.96 (34 ER/77.2 IP).

LONG TIME COMING ...

September 7, with southpaws John Halama and Dontrelle Willis on the hill, marked the first time that 2 left-handed starting pitcher opposed one another at RFK Stadium since July 17, 1971, when Washington's Jim Shellenback was opposed by MIN's Jim Kaat...the duration of time between September 7, 2005 and July 17, 1971: 12,472 days.

THANKS, WE COULD NOT HAVE DONE IT WITHOUT YOU

On September 8, the Nationals ran their season attendance total to 2,333,091 to establish a new franchise single-season record...the Nationals, in their first season in Washington, needed just 69 openings to trump the previous franchise mark of 2,320,651, which was set by the 1983 Montreal Expos at Olympic Stadium.

ALL GOOD THINGS MUST COME TO AN END

According to Elias Sports Bureau, before squandering a 5-0 lead in the 9th inning on September 17, the Nationals had won an MLB-leading 68 straight games in which they have held a lead of 4 or more runs...however, that streak came to an end, as the Padres rallied to tie the game with a 5-run 9th—highlighted by a Khalil Greene game-tying grand slam—and Ramon Hernandez's game-ending 3-run homer in the 12th inning...SDP won, 8-5.

- Before that, the franchise had not lost a game despite, at one time, holding a lead of 4 or more runs since June 1, 2004 at Turner Field (led 6-2 in middle of 8th, but lost 7-6).

24 ZEROS

Barry Bonds' 4th-inning solo homer on September 20 at RFK broke a string of 24.0 consecutive scoreless innings posted by Nationals starting pitchers.

- The 24.0-inning scoreless streak was the longest posted by franchise starters since June 6-8, 1997, when Expos starters also strung together a 24.0-inning scoreless string.

FRANK'S RANK

Frank Robinson capped the 2005 season with a managerial record of 994-1085 (.478)...he capped the '05 season tied with Alvin Dark for 54th on the all-time managerial win list, one behind Bill Virdon (995)...Frank is 6 wins shy of becoming the 53rd manager with 1,000 managerial victories.

51 LONG YEARS FOR THE DISTRICT

This season, for the first time since 1954, a team from Washington (81-81) finished with a better record than BAL (74-88).

- Back in 1954, the AL Nationals (not known officially as the Senators until 1956) finished 6th in the American League with a 66-88 mark...BAL finished 7th, 12.0 games behind Washington, with a 54-100 record.

ONE-RUN WONDERS

The Nationals experienced a plethora of ups and downs in one-run contests...Washington led MLB by playing 61 one-run games...LAA ranked 2nd with 59, and only one other NL club had as many as 50 (SFG, 52).

- The Nationals led the NL with 30 one-run victories...only CWS (35) and LAA (33) registered more in the AL.
- While the 30 one-runs win paced the NL, Washington's 31 one-run losses led the NL, and were trumped by only CLE in the AL.
- The Nationals went a remarkable 24-8 in one-run games through July 8...but a 1-0 setback on July 9 at PHI began a downturn that saw the Nationals drop 23 of their final 29 one-run affairs.
- Washington won 12 straight one-run games from June 3-July 8...the 12-game winning streak in games decided by the minimum was the longest such streak in MLB since STL posted 12 consecutive games decided by one run in 1993... however, the Nationals then lost 13 consecutive one-run games from July 6-August 9 (see note below)...the one-run slide came to a merciful end with a 6-5 win at HOU on August 9...Washington fell a single one-run loss shy of the NL record for consecutive one-run losses, 13, set by STL in 1919.

- Thus, the Nationals became the first team in MLB history to win as many as 12 straight one-run games AND lose as many as 13 consecutive one-run contests in a single season.

RECORD BOOK REWRITTEN

A look at some of the franchise records set during the Nationals' inaugural 2005 season...these records span 37 NL seasons beginning with 1969, the Expos' first campaign in Montreal...Most Consecutive Wins (TIED, 10 from June 2-12), Most Consecutive One-Run Wins (12 from June 3-July 5), Most Consecutive One-Run Losses (13 from July 7-August 6), Most Players Used Single Season (54), Most Times Team Hit by Pitch (89), Highest Team Fielding Percentage Season (.985), Most Home Runs Switch Hitter Career (Jose Vidro, 108), Most Consecutive Wins by a Starting Pitcher (Livan Hernandez, 11 from April 24-July 11), Most Batters Hit by Pitch Single Game (Livan Hernandez, 4 on July 20 vs. COL), Most Saves Single Season Individual Player (Chad Cordero, 47), Most Saves Prior to All-Star Break Individual Player (Chad Cordero, 31), Most Consecutive Appearances Earning a Save (Chad Cordero, 15 from June 5-July 2), Most Games Pitched by a Rookie (Gary Majewski, 79), Highest Single-Season Fielding Percentage by a Third Baseman (Vinny Castilla, .970).

THANKS 2.7 MILLION

The Nationals capped their 2005 inaugural season with a total attendance of 2,731,993 to rank 11th in MLB (8th in the NL)... that worked out to 33,728 patrons per opening.

- Incidentally, the Nationals' neighbor, BAL, finished 13th in MLB in attendance at 2,624,740 (32,404 per game).

BELTWAY BASEBALL VERY HEALTHY

Washington and BAL combined to draw 5,356,733 fans this season to rank a healthy 4th out of 5 multi-team markets...a closer look:

AREA	AL TEAM (ATT.)	NL TEAM (ATT.)	COMBINED ATTENDANCE

I GLOVE YOU

After ranking 28th in MLB in fielding as recently as 3 years ago, the Nationals' .985 fielding percentage in 2005 tied for 5th in MLB (T2nd in NL) and was the franchise's highest in 37 NL seasons...a closer look at the club's improved defense in 2005:

- By committing just 92 miscues, the Nationals established the lowest single-season error tally in franchise history...the former full-season record for fewest errors had been 99, set by the 2004 Expos.
- The record-low error total also rendered just 46 unearned runs, the lowest full-season (a.k.a non-strike season) total in the franchise's 37 NL seasons...the former mark was 47, set by Montreal in 1990...note that the 1981 and '94 Expos allowed fewer unearned runs, 37 and 44 respectively, but in strike-shortened seasons.
- Vinny Castilla established a new franchise record for fielding percentage by a third baseman...Castilla's .970 mark trumped Tim Wallach's .968 fielding percentage in 1991.

Although the Nationals finished 5th in the NL, they spent 63 days either in sole possession of first place or tied for first place during their inaugural season in Washington.

- Only ATL (102 days) enjoyed the first place more often...FLA (34), PHI (4) and NYM (1) also had their turn on top.

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE

The Nationals finished with a .500 record despite having made 24 DL moves in 2005 affecting 20 different players...no big league team was stifled by the injury bug more than the Nationals in 2005, as they lost 1,434 games to the DL.

- 4 players made a pair of trips to the DL: Nick Johnson, Tony Armas Jr., T.J. Tucker and Henry Mateo...5 players missed more than 100 games: Francis Beltran (162), Alex Escobar (162), Antonio Osuna (156), Terrmel Sledge (135) and Jon Rauch (102)...shoulders, elbows, knees, ankles, heels, wrists, backs, groins, hamstrings, toes and equilibriums were all affected.

BULLISH ON THE NATIONALS 'PEN

Washington's 2.95 bullpen ERA (75 ER/229.0) after the All-Star break paced the NL...among bullpens, only CLE (2.71) was better after the Mid-Summer Classic.

LIVAN LIFE TO THE FULLEST

For a 2nd consecutive season, Livan Hernandez led MLB by tossing a career-high 246.1 innings...HOU 's Roy Oswalt ranked 2nd with 241.2 innings...in a testament to baseball's evolution, Hernandez's 246.1-inning campaign did not crack the franchise's top 10 list of innings pitched in a single season.

- Hernandez has now paced the NL in innings for 3 straight seasons...he is the first National Leaguer to turn this trick since Greg Maddux led the senior circuit in innings pitched 4 consecutive seasons from 1991-94 (in 1995, Maddux's 209.2 innings "only" tied Denny Neagle for the NL lead).

- Livan is the first pitcher to lead MLB in innings in consecutive seasons since Maddux (1992-94).

WHAT CAN (SCOUTING DIRECTOR DANA) BROWN DO FOR YOU?

With NL All-Star Chad Cordero (20th overall selection in '03) and Ryan Zimmerman (4th overall selection in '05) ending the season in the big leagues, the Nationals were the only club in MLB with a pair of first-round selections from the last 3 First-Year Player drafts ('03-05) on their season-ending roster.

NOTHING MINOR ABOUT IT

Following the '05 minor league season, Nationals Player Development Director Adam Wogan named 3B Kory Casto (.290, 36 doubles, 22 homers, 90 RBI, .394 OBP) and former-George Washington University left-handed pitcher Michael O'Connor (10-11, 3.54 ERA, 158 SO in 167.2 innings) their Minor League Player and Pitcher of the Year.

HISTORY & RECORDS

WASHINGTON NATIONALS

BASEBALL RETURNS TO OUR NATION'S CAPITAL

On Wednesday, September 29, 2004, Major League Baseball selected the Washington, D.C. proposal as its choice for relocation of the Montreal Expos. Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig made the announcement. Relocation of the club was subject to certain contingencies, including a formal vote of ownership at the next owners' meeting in November and passage of legislation by the District of Columbia Council to provide for financing and construction of a ballpark on the Anacostia River waterfront in Southeast Washington. MLB has also provided the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida the required notice of MLB's intent to move forward with relocating the team.

The D.C. agreement also includes financing for the refurbishing of RFK Stadium, where the Washington, D.C. franchise will play until a new stadium is completed.

"Washington, D.C., as our nation's capital, is one of the world's most important cities and Major League Baseball is gratified at the skill and perseverance shown by Mayor Williams throughout this long process," Selig said. "There has been tremendous growth in the Washington, D.C. area over the last 33 years and we in Major League Baseball believe that baseball will be welcomed there and will be a great success."

Selig also said: "I would like to thank the representatives who worked on behalf of Northern Virginia, Norfolk, VA, Las Vegas, Portland, OR, Monterrey, Mexico and others for devoting so much time and energy in their attempts to bring a Major League Baseball team to their communities."

At the time, Washington, D.C. was the largest market in the country in terms of population (5.4 million) and television market size (8th) without a Major League Baseball team.

Concurrent with the D.C. legislative process necessary to fulfill the agreement reached among the D.C. Government, the D.C. Sports and Entertainment Commission and the Expos, Major League Baseball will begin to accept and review bids of prospective ownership groups.

Even though Washington, D.C. baseball has a long history with the American League, the team will play in the National League East Division, which in fact marks its return to its baseball roots. The first Washington, D.C. franchise joined the National League in 1886 and was part of the NL, except for a two-year hiatus in 1890-91, until the National League contracted Washington and three other franchises in 1900.

But a year later, Ban Johnson organized the American League and included Washington, D.C. as one of its charter franchises. Although the original Senators were mostly mediocre throughout their history, they fielded one of the game's greatest all-time pitchers, Walter "Big Train" Johnson and made three trips to the World Series, winning it in 1924 in a seven-game series against the New York Giants. In 1925, the Senators lost in seven games to Pittsburgh and lost in five games to the Giants in 1933.

The second incarnation of the Senators came in 1961 in the form of an expansion team. Like its predecessor, the Senators often finished in the second division and had only one winning season in their 11-year history. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. has been without Major League Baseball since then.

THE HISTORY OF BASEBALL IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

When the first professional baseball games were played in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., the enduring symbol of freedom in America - the Statue of Liberty - was still two years away from being dedicated. There were 38 states in the Union and what would become the State of Oklahoma had yet to be settled. More than seven decades had passed since Washington, D.C. became the capital of the United States and baseball was quickly evolving into the National Pastime.

A Washington team was admitted to the National League in 1885 and played during the League's 10th professional season in 1886. Washington played 12 years in the National League - 1886-89 and 1892-99 - but was part of a four-team contraction in 1900 as the National League went from 12 franchises to eight.

Later that same year, former Western League president Ban Johnson was organizing a second Major League to compete with the National League and announced plans to include a franchise in the nation's capital. The new League was called the American League and began play in 1901.

This Washington franchise was awarded to James Manning and Detroit businessman Fred Postal. Manning retired later that year and Tom Loftus replaced him as the club's primary executive. The Senators finished in sixth place in 1901 with a 61-72 mark and would eventually be sold to an ownership group including Thomas C. Noyes, Benjamin Minor and Harry Rapley, among others.

The first of two individual tragedies struck the organization in only its third season as the Senators lost a key figure when future Hall of Fame outfielder Ed Delahanty was tragically killed in July 1903 when he was swept over Niagara Falls. Delahanty was the reigning American League batting champion and his sudden death took its toll on the team as the Senators finished the campaign with a 43-94 mark.

Effective for the 1905 campaign, the team name was changed to Nationals. Newspaper accounts use the names Senators and Nationals interchangeably for the next five decades.

While it took 12 years before the Nationals finished a season with a winning record, the signing of 20 year-old pitcher Walter Johnson in 1907 would signify a key moment in the franchise's history. Under first-year manager, Clark Griffith, the 1912 Washington Club posted a 91-61 mark and ended up in second place, 14 games behind the eventual World Champion Boston Red Sox.

Johnson appeared in a remarkable 50 games that year - 37 as a starter - and went 33-12 with a league-leading 1.39 ERA and 303 strikeouts. The following year he was even better as he led the Nationals to their second consecutive 90-win season. "Big Train" went 36-7 with 11 shutouts and a 1.14 ERA, which still stands today as one of the lowest ERAs by a starting pitcher in a single season.

In 1912, 40 year-old team president Thomas C. Noyes fell ill to pneumonia and eventually succumbed to the disease. Noyes had been instrumental in the franchise's improvements since he took over and was replaced as team president by Minor, a prominent Washington attorney. Minor, unable to devote the necessary time to the club, subsequently sold the controlling interest to Griffith and Philadelphia businessman William Richardson in 192x.

Following a 75-78 season in 1923, Griffith made a controversial decision by appointing 27 year-old second baseman Stanley "Bucky" Harris as field manager. Harris was the fifth manager in the previous five seasons for the Nationals , but he guided one of the great reversals in baseball history as the Nationals in 1924 won more games than ever before, 92, and captured their first American League pennant.

In the 1924 World Series, the Nationals took on famed manager John McGraw and the New York Giants. The Series was one of the closest in history as four games were decided by a single run, including the deciding Game Seven. On the strength of Walter Johnson's four innings of relief pitching - on two days' rest - and the Series clinching hit by Earl McNeeley in the bottom of the 12th inning, the Nationals won their first and only World Series Championship.

United States President Calvin Coolidge, who threw out the ceremonial first pitch on three occasions during the Series, paid tribute to the hometown victors immediately following the victory:

"I have only the heartiest praise to bestow upon the individual players of both teams. Naturally, in Washington, we were pleased to see Walter Johnson finish the final game, pitching for our home team. Everybody was pleased to see him come back at the close of the last game. The three contests I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill, and every evidence of high-class sportsmanship which will bring to every observer an increased respect and confidence in our national game."

The following year, Harris once again led the Nationals to a record regular season finish as they posted 96 wins and clinched a second-straight American League pennant. Their second trip to the World Series was just as close but this time they came up short in a seven-game Series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Senators had a 7-6 lead entering the bottom of the eighth in Game Seven, but could not hold it as the Pirates scored three runs in the inning off Johnson and held on to clinch the Series victory.

Johnson concluded his amazing 21-year playing career with Nationals in 1927 with career totals of 417-279, a 2.36 ERA, 3,508 strikeouts and a Major League record 110 shutouts. He was among the first class of inductees into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, in 1936.

The "Big Train" was not gone from the Washington scene long as Griffith brought him back to replace Harris as the Nationals' manager in 1929. Despite posting three straight 90-win seasons, Johnson was removed from his post after the 1932 season and replaced by Joe Cronin, the team's 26 year-old shortstop.

Cronin's first season with the Nationals produced the franchise's best regular season mark ever at 99-53 and its third American League pennant. Washington again faced the New York Giants in the Fall Classic but fell in five games to a team led by the pitching of Carl Hubbell (20 IP, 0 ER) and the hitting of Mel Ott, who clinched the Series for New York with a 10th inning homer in Game Five.

The Nationals franchise then fell on hard times. Washington's victory total dropped to 66 in 1934 and the team posted only two more winning seasons over the next 25 years. The team name was officially changed to Senators for the '56 campaign.

Calvin Griffith, who became team president after his father's death in 1955, was granted permission to seek relocation in September 1960, and an announcement was made in October 1960 that the Senators were being moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota.

At that time, the American League announced plans to expand by two teams for the 1961 season. One team would be located in Los Angeles and the other in Washington, D.C.

An expansion draft was conducted in Boston on December 10, 1960 and the Senators selected the following players at $75,000 each:

PITCHERS	CATCHERS	INFIELDERS	OUTFIELDERS
Pete Burnside	Pete Daley	Chester Boak	Joe Hicks
Dick Donovan	Dutch Dotterer	Bob Johnson	Chuck Hinton
Rudy Hernandez	Gene Green	Billy Klaus	Marty Keough
Ed Hobaugh		Dale Long	Jim King
Johhny Klippstein		Jim Mahoney	Willie Tasby
Hector Maestri		John Schaive	Gene Woodling
Carl Mathias		Coot Veal
Bobby Shantz		Bud Zipfel
Dave Sisler
Tom Sturdivant
Hal Woodeshick

The expansion Senators fared no better than their predecessors, as they lost at least 100 games in each of their first four seasons. In 1964, the Senators acquired five players in a deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Claude Osteen. One of those five players was slugging outfielder and the 1960 National League Rookie of the Year, Frank Howard.

An imposing presence at 6-7, 250 lbs., Howard brought a much-needed offensive punch to the Senators lineup and the Senators win total increased in each of his first three seasons in Washington. After struggling again in 1968, new team president Robert Short brought in Hall of Fame outfielder Ted Williams as the new manager of the Senators.

Howard and his teammates responded to the "Splendid Splinter" during his rookie managerial campaign as Washington's win total improved 21 games to 86 in 1969. It was also Howard's best year in the Majors, as he batted .296 with 48 home runs, 111 RBI and 111 runs scored and finished fourth in the balloting for American League Most Valuable Player.

Unfortunately, the team was unable to build upon their success in 1969. The Senators lost 92 games in 1970 and 96 in 1971. On September 21, 1971, owners approved the transfer of the Washington franchise to Arlington, Texas where it became the Texas Rangers.

After 71 years in the American League and nearly 100 since the debut of professional baseball in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., hosted its "final" regular season on September 30, 1971 at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. has been without Major League Baseball since then.

WASHINGTON, D.C. BALLPARKS

Professional baseball teams were formed in our nation's capital — Washington, D.C. — beginning in the early 1870s and those franchises played their games in ballparks commonly known as Swampoodle Grounds, Capitol Grounds and Boundary Field.

In 1892, the Washington Senators joined the expanding National League and began playing their home games at a site that would host professional baseball games into the early 1960s. From 1892-99, the Senators played at National Park, which had a seating capacity of approximately 6,500. Although never finishing above sixth place, the team drew fairly well, including more than 200,000 fans in 1896.

When the National League contracted from 12 franchises to eight following the 1899 season, the team was disbanded. However, it would only be two seasons before a professional team occupied that site again.

During those two years, former Western League president Ban Johnson was working to put together a second Major League to rival the National League. In 1901, the American League began play with eight franchises, including the Washington Nationals.

This franchise would play its home games on the same site as the previous National League Washington team, but the ballpark was appropriately renamed, American League Base Ball Park and the capacity was expanded to nearly 10,000.

On March 17, 1911, tragedy struck the American League Base Ball Park. The all-wooden ballpark and four surrounding buildings were completely destroyed by a fire started by a plumber's blow lamp and a strong wind. American League Base Ball Park could not be saved as plumbers working on the park's drain pipes had shut off the water supply and by the time fire fighters arrived, the grand stand and bleachers were engulfed in flames. At the time, the loss of the ballpark was estimated at $20,000.

Thomas C. Noyes, president of the Washington franchise, gained approval from the Club's Board of Directors to announce that work would begin immediately on a new ballpark with a steel grandstand. With the players at Spring Training and Opening Day less than a month away, crews worked tirelessly to get the ballpark ready for the home opener.

By Opening Day 1911, the grandstands were sufficiently erected for the Nationals to host the Boston Red Sox with President William Howard Taft in attendance. The work on the ballpark continued when the team was on the road and was completed on July 24, 1911 at a final cost of approximately $100,000. Seating capacity was more than 27,000, including a presidential box near the first base dugout.

In 1920, the American League Base Ball Park was renamed Griffith Stadium in recognition of the franchise's owner and president, Clark Griffith. The only major alteration to the ballpark was also made in 1920 as the double-decked stands were extended from the bases to the foul poles.

During the late-1930s and 1940s, Griffith Stadium had another part-time tenant - the famed Homestead Grays of the Negro Leagues. Originally from Pennsylvania, the Grays played half of their games at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh and half at Griffith Stadium when the Washington franchise was on the road. Some of the most revered players in Negro League history played for the Grays, including Josh Gibson, Buck Leonard, Cool Papa Bell and Sam Bankhead, as they won nine Negro League championships.

Griffith Stadium, which also hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1937 and 1956 and three World Series in 1924, 1925 and 1933, remained the home of the Washington franchise until it was moved to Minneapolis following the 1960 season.

The expansion Washington Senators played their inaugural season at Griffith Stadium in 1961 before moving into District of Columbia Stadium for the 1962 season.

After having been the site of professional baseball in Washington, DC, since 1892, the final game at Griffith Stadium was played on September 21, 1961 as the Senators fell to the Minnesota Twins, 4-3, before a crowd of 1,498 fans. Griffith Stadium was demolished in 1965 and is now utilized by Howard University. Nearly 1,000 of the original seats from Griffith Stadium were moved to a Spring Training facility near Orlando, Fla., Tinker Field. Those seats remain there today.

A federally-owned stadium, District of Columbia Stadium was a new three-tiered, multi-purpose facility constructed near the Potomac River at a cost of approximately $24 million. The Senators signed a 10-year lease on September 29, 1961 with the D.C. Armory Board for the stadium, which had a seating capacity of 45,016.

On April 9, 1962, the Senators played their first regular season game at District of Columbia Stadium. A crowd of 42,143 - including President John F. Kennedy — saw Senators pitcher Bennie Daniels defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-1. Interestingly enough, Daniels suffered the loss at both the final game at Ebbets Field in 1957 and the final game at Griffith Stadium in 1961.

Under the direction of the D.C. Armory Board, the stadium was officially renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium on January 18, 1969.

The 1969 Major League Baseball All-Star Game was the fourth hosted by the Senators and the second at RFK Stadium (also first game in 1962). Despite the American League dropping a 9-3 decision to the National League, Washington fans saw future Hall of Famer Willie McCovey hit a pair of homers and hometown favorite Frank Howard hit one as well.

In 1971, the Senators played their final season at RFK Stadium before moving to Arlington, Texas. The final regular season Major League Baseball game was played at RFK on September 30, 1971. Washington hosted the New York Yankees before a crowd of just 14,460 in a game that was never finished. The Senators were holding on to a 7-5 lead with two outs in the top of the ninth inning when fans rushed the field. The umpiring crew could not clear the field and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9-0.

RFK Stadium has hosted 16 exhibition games involving Major League teams since the Senators moved in 1971. A portion of the proceeds from most of the games was donated to various charities. Attendance at the 16 contests averaged more than 27,600 per game. Following is a listing of those games:

THE TRADITION OF OPENING DAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Each Major League Club has its own unique celebration to mark the opening of the Major League Baseball season, but Opening Day in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., was always a special and sometimes historic event. Washington, D.C.'s Opening Day tradition dates back to April 14, 1910. William Howard Taft, the 27th President of the United States, attended the home opener of the Washington Senators against the Philadelphia Athletics. Numerous other government officials, including Vice President James Sherman, joined President Taft at the ballpark.

An overflow crowd of 12,000 fans—the largest baseball crowd in Washington at that time—gave President Taft an standing ovation as he made his way to his seats on the first-base side. Team president Thomas C. Noyes then took the 2 managers—Washington's Jimmy McAleer and Philadelphia's legendary Connie Mack—to meet the President.

Just prior to the start of the game, umpire Billy Evans walked over to President Taft's box and presented him with a new baseball. Evans instructed President Taft that he was to throw the ball from his seat in the stands to Senators pitcher Walter Johnson, who was standing at home plate, to officially commence the start of the American League championship season. After giving the ball briefly to First Lady Helen Taft, the President adjusted his gloves and made a good throw to Johnson, who immediately gave the ball to catcher Charles Street to have it secured in a safe place.

President Taft watched the entire game, a 3-0 Washington victory in which Johnson hurled a one-hit, complete-game shutout. After the game, Johnson sent the historic ball to the White House accompanied by a note to President Taft asking for his autograph on the ball. President Taft returned the ball after penning the following on it:

"For Walter Johnson, with the hope that he may continue to be as formidable as in yesterday's game. William H. Taft."

Although President Taft was the first to throw out a ceremonial first pitch, it was not the first time a President of the United States attended a Major League Baseball game. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd U.S. President, is believed to be the first sitting President to attend a Major League game when he witnessed a NL game between Cincinnati and Washington in June 1892. That wasn't even the first interaction with a professional baseball team as nine years earlier President Chester A. Arthur welcomed the Cleveland franchise of the National League to the White House.

Having the President throw out the ceremonial first pitch at Washington's home opener was such an enormous success—not only in the nation's capital but around the country—that it led to the American League granting Washington permission to open the American League championship season one day before the rest of the League. This action was approved on December 13, 1927, in recognition of the U.S. President throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

Including President Taft's precedent-setting throw in 1910, 11 different Presidents have attended a home opener of the Washington Senators a total of 46 times. The Senators posted a 23-23 mark in home openers with a President present.

President Taft (2-0) and Woodrow Wilson (3-0), the 28th U.S. President, were the only two to never see the Senators lose. The only U.S. Presidents never to see Washington win a home opener were Lyndon Johnson (0-3) and Richard Nixon (0-2). Following is the breakdown of Washington's record on Opening Day, listed by President:

PRESIENT OF THE UNITED STATES	WASHINGTON'S RECORD ON OPENING DAY
Woodrow Wilson (D)	3-0 (1.000)
William Howard Taft (R)	2-0 (1.000)
George W. Bush (R)	1-0 (1.000)
Calvin Coolidge (R)	3-1 (.750)
Warren Harding (R)	2-1 (.667)
Dwight Eisenhower (R)	4-3 (.571)
Franklin Roosevelt (D)	4-4 (.500)
Harry Truman (D)	3-4 (.429)
John F. Kennedy (D)	1-2 (.333)
Herbert Hoover (R)	1-3 (.250)
Richard Nixon (R)	0-2 (.000)
Lyndon Johnson (D)	0-3 (.000)
TOTAL	24-23 (.511)
Democrats	11-13 (.458)
Republicans	13-10 (.565)

Prior to the Senators move to Texas in 1972, each President since Taft was in attendance for a Washington Senators home opener at least once. Several Presidents had to miss on occasion, including President Taft in 1914 because of the sinking of the Titanic and President Wilson in 1918 and 1919 because of World War I.

Since 1972, the tradition of Presidents and Opening Day has continued in other Major League cities. The only President to never throw out a ceremonial first pitch at an Opening Day game was Jimmy Carter. President George W. Bush has continued the legacy, having thrown out the ceremonial first pitch at RFK Stadium on April 14, 2005 to usher the return of baseball to the nation's capitol. He also did the honors at Miller Park in Milwaukee in April of 2001.

WASHINGTON, DC AND THE WORLD SERIES

Washington, DC has hosted three World Series, with the original Washington Nationals claiming the 1924 World Championship. Washington needed 7 games to top the favored New York Giants, a club that was appearing in its 8th World Series in 14 seasons and was managed by John McGraw. The Nationals won despite Walter Johnson losing each of his first 2 starts. However, Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings as Johnson came out of the 'pen to earn the win in Game 7. The 1924 World Series remains the 2nd of only 4 World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive 7th game.

The Washington Nationals would go on to play in two more Fall Classics, losing both. As defending World Champions in 1925, the Nationals won 92 games and claimed another NL Pennant, but lost to Pittsburgh in 7 games. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson squandered a 4-0 lead after the first inning and eventually suffered the loss. The New York Giants provided payback for the '24 Series by winning the 1933 World Series over the Nationals in 5 games.

THE HISTORY OF THE MONTREAL EXPOS (1969-2004)

The city of Montreal had a long association with professional baseball even before it was awarded a Major League franchise in 1968. On April 18, 1946, the Montreal Royals, a minor league affiliate of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the International League, secured their place in baseball history when Jackie Robinson made his professional debut and became the first African-American to play professional baseball in the 20th Century.

More than two decades later as the National League was seeking to expand by two franchises, former Montreal city councillor Gerry Snyder presented the city's formal bid during an owners' meeting in Mexico City, Mexico. Six months later on May 27, 1968, it was announced that Major League Baseball was expanding outside the United States for the first time as Montreal was awarded a National League franchise to begin play in 1969.

Despite some early concerns about the team's financing, Montreal met its initial deposit deadline and officially became a member of the National League on August 14, 1968. Charles Bronfman, a distillery magnate and an original investor, was named chairman with Paul Beaudry and Lorne Webster as vice-chairmen. John McHale was named president and chief executive officer, while Jim Fanning was appointed the team's first general manager.

On September 5, 1968, the Montreal franchise named Gene Mauch field manager. Mauch was returning to familiar ground as he played two seasons for the minor league Montreal Royals in 1943 and 1944. McHale also announced that the team would be known as the Expos, in recognition of Expos 67, an international exhibition that attracted 50 million visitors to the city in 1967.

Only five days later, pitcher Dave Hartman became the first player to sign a contract with the Expos. Hartman never actually played for the Expos or made it to the Major Leagues. However, an expansion draft was conducted on October 14, 1968 and the Expos selected the following 30 players:

Manny Mota, Mack Jones, John Bateman, Gary Sutherland, John Billingham, Donn Clendenon, Jesus Alou, Mike Wegener, Skip Guinn, Bill Stoneman, Maury Wills, Larry Jackson, Bob Reynolds, Dan McGinn, Jose Herrera, Jim Williams, Angel Hermoso, Jim Grant, Jerry Robertson, Don Shaw, Ty Cline, Garry Jestadt, Carl Morton, Larry Jaster, Ernest McAnally, Jim Fairey, Jose Laboy, John Boccabella, Rob Brand and John Glass.

The Expos' first home ballpark was Jarry Park, a converted minor league stadium named after former councillor Raoul Jarry in 1927. Jarry Park's initial capacity was 3,000, but was expanded to 28,450 as the ballpark met MLB standards.

Montreal made its National League debut on April 8, 1969 at Shea Stadium in New York against one of the National League's last expansion teams, the Mets. The Expos held off a furious 9th inning rally to claim an 11-10 victory. Pitcher Dan McGinn hit the first home run in franchise history, a solo shot off future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver in the 4th inning.

Jarry Park hosted its first regular season game six days later as 29,814 fans witnessed Major League Baseball in Canada for the first time. Despite facing a St. Louis Cardinals lineup that featured names such as Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Dal Maxvill and Joe Torre, the Expos treated their fans to an 8-7 win.

One of the highlights of the inaugural season came on April 17 at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia. Bill Stoneman, later a general manager of the Anaheim Angels, pitched the franchise's first no-hitter in defeating the Phillies, 7-0. The Expos would go on to finish the season with a 52-110 mark.

The following season saw Montreal improve by 21 games under Mauch. 26 year-old pitcher Carl Morton went 18-11 with a 3.26 ERA en route to being named 1970 NL Rookie of the Year. In 1973, the Expos made their first pennant chase as they won 79 games and were in the race for the National League East title until the last weekend of the season.

After a few disappointing seasons, the Expos in 1977 moved into Olympic Stadium, which was the main venue for the 1976 Olympic Games. A crowd of 57,592 fans attended the first game at The Big O as the Expos fell to the Phillies, 7-2.

Montreal begun to form the nucleus of a team that would bring home its first National League East title with players such as Ellis Valentine, Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie, Gary Carter and Steve Rogers. The Expos won 95 games in 1979 only to fall two games shy of the title and was again in the pennant race until the final game of the season 1980.

In '81, the Expos finally cleared the hurdle as they won the NL East's second half title in a season shortened by a players' strike. In a best-of-5 Divisional Series, Montreal topped first-half champion Philadelphia, three games to two, and advanced to its first NLCS.

The NLCS against Tommy Lasorda's Los Angeles Dodgers went down to the ninth inning of the fifth and deciding game. With the game tied at 1-1, Dodgers outfielder Rick Monday hit a two-out solo homer off Rogers. The Expos put two runners on in the bottom of the ninth, but could not tie the score as Los Angeles advanced to the World Series.

In 1982, Montreal hosted the first Major League Baseball All-Star Game to be held outside of the United States. The National League won its 11th consecutive Midsummer Classic on the strength of a home run by Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion. Five players represented the Expos on the NL squad: Carter, Rogers, Dawson, Tim Raines and Al Oliver.

Montreal remained competitive throughout much of the next decade, including 91 wins in 1987 by a team led by Raines, Andres Galarraga, Hubie Brooks and Tim Wallach.

Bronfman sold the franchise to team president Claude Brochu on June 14, 1991. The next season Brochu appointed long-time Montreal coach Felipe Alou as field manager. Alou guided the Expos to 87 victories and a second place finish in his first year at the helm and then improved upon that with 94 wins in 1993.

The 1994 season saw a core group of players such as Larry Walker, Marquis Grissom, Moises Alou, Pedro Martinez, Ken Hill and John Wetteland storm out to a 74-40 mark - the best in the Major Leagues - and a six-game lead in the newly-formed National League East on August 11. However, the season was never completed. A players' strike began the following day that would wipe out the remainder of the 1994 schedule.

After the changing economics of the baseball landscape forced the Expos to trade some of those core players, the '95 team finished in last place in the NL East. It was only the second time since '77 that Montreal finished in last place.

Two years later, Martinez continued to establish himself as one of the top starting pitchers in the Major Leagues. He posted a 17-8 record with a 1.90 ERA, 305 strikeouts and 13 complete games en route to being the first Expos' pitcher to win the National League Cy Young Award. That winter, Martinez was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

The 1998 season was marked by stellar individual performances on the field and uncertainty off the field. 22 year-old outfielder Vladimir Guerrero displayed his immense talent by setting six Montreal records, including the club single season home run mark. Also, 24 year-old closer Ugueth Urbina recorded 34 saves with a 1.30 ERA, and Alou became the franchise's most successful manager with his 521st victory on August 19.

Off the field, Brochu continued to struggle in an attempt to finalize funding for a new downtown ballpark and announced his willingness to sell his shares of the franchise. In 1999, Jeffrey Loria was officially approved as the Expos controlling person following a buy-back of Brochu's shares. In February 2002, Major League Baseball approved the sale of the Florida Marlins to Loria and the sale of the Expos to Major League Baseball and the 29 other Major League Clubs. A new Expos senior management team was announced: Tony Tavares (president), Omar Minaya (general manager) and Hall of Famer Frank Robinson (field manager). Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig also announced the formation of a relocation committee to seek a permanent home for the franchise.

The 2003 and 2004 seasons saw the Expos make baseball history by playing a portion of their home schedule at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fans in Puerto Rico celebrated the return of Major League Baseball to the island country. The Expos drew nearly 530,000 fans and posted a 20-23 mark over their 43 games played at Hiram Bithorn Stadium during the two-season trial. On September 29, 2004, Commissioner Selig announced the formal approval of the relocation of the Expos franchise to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., for the 2005 season.

SERIES NOTES

The Nationals and Expos begin their first "Battle of the Beltway" series in '06...the neighbors did not play in '05 due to the late date of the Nationals' move to DC, but are slated to meet annually as natural rivals, much like NYM vs. NYY, and CHI vs. CWS...in '05, Washington (81-81) finished with a better record than BAL (74-88) for the first time in 51 years, or since '54 (BAL's first AL season)...Washington last won a season series over BAL in '65, when the Senators went 10-8 against the 94-win O's...the Washington Senators (both the original and expansion versions) and BAL were AL rivals from '54-71 (from '69-71, the clubs both resided in the AL East)...BAL claimed the all-time series, 224-126 (.640)...the Senators went 68-117 in DC, 58-117 at Memorial Stadium against the O's.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS RADIO

On February 17, 2005, the Washington Nationals named Bonneville International Corporation as its first radio partner. That relationship continues again in 2006, as Bonneville will again carry the club's radio rights, this time via a three-year agreement that runs through the 2008 season.

Tthe actual home of the Nationals, however, will shift to Washington Post Radio (WTWP-AM 1500), which can also be heard on 107.7 FM and 104.3 FM in Leesburg beginning in late March 2006.

Fifteen exhibition games, including both Battle of the Beltway contests (March 31 vs. Baltimore and April 1 at Baltimore), as well as the entire 162-game regular-season schedule will be broadcast on Washington Post Radio.

"We welcome Washington Post Radio as the 2006 radio broadcast partner of the Washington Nationals," said Washington Nationals President and CEO Tony Tavares. "This partnership will best serve the loyal fans in Washington, Maryland and Virginia. We are excited that all of our fans will be able to tune into our games from March until the season's last pitch."

RADIO VOICES OF THE NATIONALS

CHARLIE SLOWES

Slowes, 44, enters his 9th big league season, his 2nd with the Nationals. Charlie joined the Nationals on February 24, 2005 and it did not take long for him to reacquaint himself with the Washington, DC market. Within days of his Nationals premier, his trademark "Bang Zoom" tag line was a part of the Beltway lexicon. Before introducing the Nationals to their new market in 2005, Charlie spent the previous 7 seasons as a play-by-play voice of Tampa Bay on the Devil Rays Radio Network. He joined the Devil Rays for their inaugural season in 1998. Before his return, Slowes was perhaps best known locally as the play-by-play voice of the Washington Bullets from 1986-97. During his tenure with the Bullets, Slowes did two seasons of television simulcasts and enjoyed representing the Bullets in a variety of community-related functions. He also worked at KMOX Radio in St. Louis for three years (1984-86), during which time he was exposed to broadcasting greats Bob Costas and Jack Buck while working in a variety of on-air functions for, among others, St. Louis University, the St. Louis Blues, the St. Louis baseball Cardinals and the St. Louis football Cardinals. Charlie broadcast Tidewater Tides Triple-A baseball for parts of four seasons from 1986-92. He has broadcasting experience with NBC (television) and CBS (radio) for their MLB Game of the Week, as well as with the Baltimore Orioles and New York Mets radio networks. He's also dabbled in bowling and boxing for ESPN and MISL soccer (play-by-play with New York Arrows in 1983) in two-plus decades as a play-by-play broadcaster. Charlie is married to Christina. The couple has 2 sons: Jimmy and Alex.

DAVE JAGELER

Jageler, 34, joins the Nationals after spending last season as the radio and TV voice of the Pawtucket Red Sox of the Triple-A International League. Prior to joining Pawtucket, he worked in Boston co-hosting an afternoon talk show as well as serving in various capacities with the Boston Celtics radio network, including fill in play-by-play. Jageler spent 6 years in Charlotte as the voice of UNC-Charlotte basketball and co-hosting a morning drive talk show. While in Charlotte he built his baseball resume with the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the 1995, 1996 and 2001 seasons doing play-by-play. Jageler's voice may sound familiar to some in the D.C.-area, as he served as a host on the Virginia Tech Sports Network during the 1993-94 basketball season. He has also served as the studio host for Westwood One's NHL Game of the Week, the Florida State and Texas Longhorns football networks and has done fill in play-by- play for both the Seminoles and Longhorns. The Windsor, CT native is a graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications where he began his play-by-play career broadcasting Syracuse football and basketball games on WAER and baseball for the Triple-A Syracuse Skychiefs on Time Warner Cable and Empire Sports Network. During baseball's off-season, he can be heard as an ESPN Radio SportsCenter anchor and as the voice of Harvard basketball. Jageler resides in Alexandria, VA. He is married to Jennifer, and the couple has two children, Jared (6) and Sarah (2).

NATIONALS ON TELEVISION

On February 23, 2006, the Washington Nationals announced that the Mid-Atlantic Sports Network (MASN), the television home of the Nationals, will produce and distribute 154 of the Nationals' Regular Season games and four (4) Spring Training contests. MASN is carried locally by DirecTV (Channel 626), VerizonFIOS (Channel 66), RCN Cable (Channel 8) and Charter Cable. The Nationals games on MASN are available from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania to Charlotte, North Carolina.

WDCA-Channel 20 will carry the MASN telecast for 32 regular season games, the majority of which are on Friday nights. WDCA will show eight inter-league games, including two against the Boston Red Sox, two versus the New York Yankees and four with I-95 rival, the Baltimore Orioles.

The fourth and final preseason game on WDCA will feature the Nationals hosting the Orioles on March 31 from RFK Stadium.

In addition to the 154 Nationals games available on MASN, eight games will be televised nationally, including one game on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball and seven games on Fox's Saturday Game of the Week.

TELEVISION VOICES OF THE NATIONALS

BOB CARPENTER

Bob Carpenter joins MASN and the Nationals after 10 years in the TV booth of the St. Louis Cardinals and more than 20 in the major leagues. The St. Louis native debuted in 1984 with Cardinals baseball on the Sportstime Cable Network, then returned in '95 on KPLR-TV and KMOX Radio. He has been nominated for four St. Louis/Mid-America Emmys, winning twice (1996 and '97). His signature home run call "See ... you ... later!" got local and national recognition during Mark McGwire's record-setting home run chase in '98. Carpenter also appeared on TV in the '80s and '90s with the Texas Rangers, New York Mets and Minnesota Twins. One of sports broadcasting's busiest announcers, Bob has worked MLB, college basketball and college football during 17 play-by-play seasons. He has broadcast baseball playoffs, Triple-A All-Star Games, NCAA and NIT Basketball Tournaments and College Football bowl games. His studio work included College Gameday and College Football Scoreboard shows. During his tenure with ESPN, Carpenter has been paired with former major leaguers Buck Martinez, Joe Morgan, Jim Palmer, Ray Knight, Jerry Reuss, Frank Viola and many others. On the basketball side, he worked with Dick Vitale, Bill Raftery, Larry Conley, Jim Valvano and among others. Carpenter announced the 2005 NCAA Basketball Final 4 in his hometown of St. Louis for NCAA International TV. Prior to ESPN, Bob handled a variety of sports for USA Network, including College Basketball and Football, PGA Golf (including The Masters) and Professional Tennis (including the U.S. Open). Bob has announced numerous soccer events at RFK Stadium, starting as the TV voice of Team America in 1983. He also worked several matches during the 1994 World Cup. Carpenter began his broadcasting career in 1976 as baseball play-by-play announcer with the Tulsa Oilers, then St. Louis' Triple-A affiliate. Carpenter earned a Radio-TV-Film degree with honors from the University of Missouri-Kansas City in 1975. Bob and Debbie, his wife of 26 years, have 2 daughters Katie and Allison.

TOM PACIOREK

Tom Paciorek begins tenure with MASN and the Nationals after a five-year stint with the Atlanta Braves that resulted in five NL East titles. Paciorek is perhaps best known as a voice of the Chicago White Sox, where he spent 13 seasons (teamed primarily with Ken Harrelson), before spending the 2000 campaign with Detroit. He began his career in broadcasting in 1984 with Chicago (AL) and '97 with Texas, while shelved on the disabled list. Paciorek's knowledge of the game stems primarily from his 18-year big league career. A 1981 American League All-Star (.326, 14 homers, 66 RBI in 104 games, finished 10th in AL MVP voting), Paciorek hit .282 with 232 doubles, 86 home runs, 503 RBI in 1392 major league games with Los Angeles (NL), Atlanta, Seattle, Chicago (AL), New York (NL) and Texas. Twice, Paciorek played in the post-season, with the Dodgers in 1974 and the White Sox in 1983. Primarily an outfielder (794 games), Tom also played quite a bit of first base (396 games) during his career. He also dabbled at third base and shortstop (one game, July 11, 1986 at CLE). Drafted by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1970, Paciorek was The Sporting News' Minor League Player of the Year in 1972. Paciorek was born in Detroit, MI and is one of four brothers to play professional baseball (three played in the big leagues, Tom, Jim and John). An All-American in football and baseball at the University of Houston, Paciorek played on the Hamtramck (Mich.) 1961 Pony League world champions. He considers his proudest achievement to be his entry into the Polish-American National Sports Hall of Fame, joining Carl Yastrzemski, Phil Niekro, Stan Musial, Mike Krzyzewski, Jack Ham, Mike Ditka and others. Tom also covered the inaugural World Baseball Classic in Puerto Rico for XM Radio.
